Lakeview residents gurning for gold

RESIDENTS at a Great Wyrley care home will be going for gold in their own 'Olympics' tomorrow - with medals being awarded for the best gurning, welly wanging and sock throwing. Lakeview Care Home, in Stafford Road, has organised the event to mark the start of the London 2012 games.

Care home residents will also compete in a giant inflatable egg and spoon race, while staff wearing fancy dress will be cheered on by spectators as they take part in a race.

Winning residents at the home, owned by Alpha Care Homes, will be awarded commemorative gold medals.

Wheelchairs

Activities co-ordinator Chris Carr said: "Everyone is really looking forward to it and all the residents want to take part."

"Some of our residents can't walk very well, but we are going to help them all take part in the races with members of staff pushing those in wheelchairs."

"We've tried to come up with as many fun games as possible. We've got hoop and disc throwing, a ball in a sock to throw, wellies to wangle and we're going to have a gurning competition."

Unseen hoard items on show

ITEMS from the Staffordshire Hoard have gone on public display for the first time.

Some 226 Anglo-Saxon items are on show at The Potteries Museum and Art Gallery. The Dark Age Discovery exhibition includes some as yet unseen items from the Hoard, which was uncovered in July 2009 in a field in Hammerwich.

Hoard items will be displayed in eight cases, with a further three cases featuring artefacts found elsewhere in the county.

Getting crafty for Olympics

YOUNGSTERS got into the Olympic spirit when they made their own torches as part of a summer holiday craft activity.

Cheslyn Hay Leisure Centre, on Saredon Road, hosted the event, which was aimed at five-to-12-year-olds.

The centre has lined up a full programme of activities throughout the summer, with something planned for every day of the holidays.

In its Olympic fun and crafts event youngsters also made Olympic flags and took part in a parade, before doing relay races and team games out in the sunshine.

Leisure assistant Robyn Brazier said: "The children had a great time."

RESIDENTS in Penkridge have claimed that a boarded-up former restaurant is proving to be an eyesore and a blight on the area.

Indian restaurant Saffron Garden closed its doors for good last month but the large building now has its windows boarded up and lies empty.

The Wolverhampton Road building has endured a troubled history in recent years. It was formerly The George & Fox pub, under the ownership of Punch Taverns, before reopening as Indian restaurant Basmati in 2011.

It then changed hands again, becoming the Spirit Pub Company-owned Saffron Garden, but with trade suffering it closed once again.

Wolverhampton Road resident Lisa Cuthbert said the building was not in keeping with the rest of the area.

"It looks a bit of a mess to say the least," she added. "A lot of people have been moaning about it and to be honest it looks terrible."

"Basmati refurbished it nicely into a buffet-style Indian restaurant but that didn't work out and it's been the same for Saffron."

"We've been hearing that it was up for sale even when Basmati had it."

"It had been a pub for years but that didn't do too well either so they're probably just better off knocking the thing down."

Demolished

"There's very little parking in Penkridge so an extra car park on the site would be very welcome."

Sarah Jones, of nearby Dunston, added: "Everyone I've spoken to said it looks terrible. It's an eyesore and something should be done about it."

The George & Fox pub was owned by Ansells before its sale to Punch Taverns. For a while it changed its name to Foxey's and was also a Mr Q's pool pub for a while.

A £166,000 refurbishment in 1997 was followed by a £540,000 one five years later.

It was originally built as a replacement for the original George & Fox coaching inn at Crown Bridge which was demolished in 1931.

The George & Fox - once also the village post office - dates from the 18th Century and was the birthplace of John Hewitt, whose son Abraham Hewitt was Mayor of New York in 1886.

Punch Taverns tried unsuccessfully to make the George & Fox a pub appealing to younger drinkers. It had a dance floor and cheaper beer than other pubs, but was not popular with real ale drinkers.

It was known as both the George and the Fox by locals. Penkridge town crier and parish councillor Bevan Craddock said at the time of the George & Fox closing down: "It is sad to see the village losing another pub becoming a restaurant. Although it is in the conservation area it is not a particularly old pub."

South Staffordshire Council said it had not received any planning applications for the site of the former Saffron Garden restaurant.

A Spirit Pub Company spokesman said: "Following a review of our pub estate we took the decision that the Saffron Garden did not fit with our long term plans."

"The pub has now been sold and is no longer in our ownership. We are unable to provide details as to the future of the site or the purchaser."

Officers earmark bid for approval

A 700-HOME development that will create more than 1,000 jobs near Hednesford is expected to be given the go ahead from council planners - despite objections from residents.

The scheme, which will also include a new school, shops and road on land west of Fye Green Road, has been recommended for approval by Cannock Chase Council. Two petitions and 58 letters have been submitted citing concerns over traffic, noise and the planned number of low cost homes.

Councillor Brian Gamble, who represents Hednesford South, said: "There are already many houses around there and it would be taking over open space and there is already a lot of traffic around there."

Delivered

If the plans are approved, 225 of the new houses would be delivered between 2013 to 2016, with the other 525 by 2017 and onwards.

Seventy of the units will be one bedroom, 140 will be two, 210 will be three, another 210 will be four and 70 will have five.

The council says 14 per cent of the new homes will be affordable housing.

Hednesford Town Council and Brindley Heath parish council feel that is not enough.

Roof parking for shoppers

ROOFTOP parking will be a feature of a new flagship shopping complex in Cannock - with marks & Spencer and Debenhams at the heart.

Council leader George Adamson said the 150,000 sq ft development at the 200-space Beecroft Road car park would include parking for a similar number of cars on top of the stores.

"If this development goes ahead there will be car parking on top of the shopping centre," said Councillor Adamson.

Take to the floor in aid of hospice

SUPPORTERS of St Giles Hospice can follow in the footsteps of their favourite celebrities – and ‘Keep Dancing’ in aid of the charity.

Dance fans can learn how to tango and samba in weekly sessions starting on Sunday, August 12.

Pairs will master a variety of steps under the expert tutelage of the Stardust Dance Academy's Sam and Clive Keay at the Pye Green Community Centre in Bradbury Lane, Hednesford.

In the ultimate test of their talents, couples will then go head-to-head in the Strictly Final on Saturday, November 3 – judged by a panel including last year's winners Bev and Paul Tucker.

Helen Relihan, head of fundraising for St Giles Hospice, said: “This is a fun-filled way to learn a new skill and to raise vital funds for St Giles Hospice. Each week, entrants will be taught the moves to exciting routines by experienced dancers before the event's climax at the Strictly Final.

Important

“It doesn't matter how old you are or if you've never danced before in your life – the important thing is that you come along, enjoy yourself and support a fantastic cause in your community.”

All that's needed is a pair of dancing shoes and a £20 entry fee, plus a pledge to raise £100 sponsorship funds for St Giles Hospice.

To sign up or find out more, please call Jenni Dawson on 01543 434 542 or email jenni.dawson@st-giles-hospice.org.uk.

Bosses in pledge on recruiting for store

SUPERMARKET bosses will begin open recruitment for up to 200 workers for a new store being built in Hednesford in September.

A total of 300 jobs are being created at Tesco. It is part of the £50m town centre redevelopment which will create 600 new jobs in total.

The 80,000 sq ft is being built at the Victoria Shopping Park site.

Up to 100 of the 300 jobs are being taken up by people who have been unemployed for more than six months.

The first stage in a three phase recruitment scheme kicked off at Hednesford Town FC. Those completing the scheme will get a job at the store.

Councillor Gordon Alcott, economic development leader, said: “We're delighted to support the Tesco Partnership scheme to get local people back into work and we're working with Tesco and JobCentre Plus to make this happen.

“The regeneration of Hednesford town centre will create around 600 jobs altogether, which is great news.”

More details for the recruitment of the remaining 200 jobs will be revealed in the coming weeks.

INSPECTORS have lifted all of their concerns over Stafford Hospital – handing bosses a huge boost as they look to reopen its A&amp;E department around the clock.

The Care Quality Commission said standards at the scandal-hit hospital were now up to scratch. Moderate concerns had been downgraded to minor in November.

Volunteers urged to muck in at free event

VOLUNTEERS are being sought to ‘muck in’ at a conservation group's next nature event.

The Lichfield District Council's countryside & park conservation will meet at Muckley Corner Common on Wednesday, August 1 to make a new hibernacula for amphibians and reptiles. They will also cut down and clear overgrown vegetation to make more space for wildflowers to grow.

The free event, from 10.30am to 3pm is open to anyone over 18 years of age.

Free tea, coffee and biscuits will be provided.

Justine Lloyd, the council's countryside manager, said: “It's a great way to learn new skills, meet people, and help to increase the amount of amphibians, reptiles and wildflowers at the site.”

Ruth Witzak, Beacon Park's community and education officer, said: “This will be an active day outside, so remember to wear sturdy footwear and to bring a packed lunch and plenty to drink.”

To book, call 01543 308183 or email devence.veall@lichfieldcc.gov.uk

But an unannounced return visit convinced the watchdog all essential standards were being met.

Lyn Hill-Tout, chief executive of the NHS Foundation Trust that runs both Stafford and Cannock hospitals, said the new findings were confirmation the hospital was “well on the way” to recovery.

The minor concerns cited in the CQC's last report in November related to the unsafe management of medicines. But inspectors were satisfied procedures had improved when they visited last month.

Morale

And their overall judgement was: “Stafford Hospital was meeting all the essential standards of quality and safety inspected.”

Mrs Hill-Tout said: “We are delighted to have confirmation from the CQC that we meet all of the standards they expect.

“This will be a real boost to staff morale and will encourage staff to continue to improve the care we provide.

“We are not complacent, we know that we still don't get it right every time for every patient but this report is confirmation that we are definitely well on the way,” she added.

The board which runs Stafford Hospital is aiming to reopen A&E overnight in October, 10 months after the unit was closed at night due to fears over patient safety amid staff shortages.

Number of crimes sees fall

CRIME in Staffordshire has plummeted over the past year, with big falls in the amount of robberies and violence, official figures show.

Staffordshire Police recorded a seven per cent drop in overall crime, with 65,680 offences in the 12 months up to the end of March this year. That included an 18 per cent reduction in robberies, with 458 offences during that period.

Vehicle crime dropped by 12 per cent to 5,181, while there was also a 16 per cent reduction in violence and 10 per cent drop in criminal damage.

Lowest

There was an 18 per cent increase in the number of drugs offences, up to 3,659, while fraud and forgery also climbed by four per cent to 969.

Chief Constable Mike Cunningham said: "Staffordshire is getting safer over the longer term."

A total of 550 murders, manslaughters and infanticides were recorded nationally, down 14 per cent from 638 in 2010-2011 and the lowest since 1983.

The figures show West Midlands Police has recorded a 10 per cent reduction in total crime over the past year.

Changes at salon following TV revelation

NEW training programmes, re-decorating projects and an advertising scheme have all been launched at a hair and beauty firm following an appearance on Channel 4's Undercover Boss.

Empty salons and staff that were not trained to deal with certain hair types were some of the problems unearthed at The Francesco Group, which appeared on an episode this week.

But bosses at the company, which has a total of 32 salons across the Midlands and has its headquarters in Stafford, said they were pleased with how the business came across – and said they had learned valuable lessons from the television programme. In the show, the Cannock salon, in South Close, was highlighted as among those where profits are declining.

But managing director Ben Dellicompagni said since the episode aired on Monday, they had taken hundreds of queries over the phone and said the company website registered more than 10,000 hits in just 24 hours.

"We knew we would find weaknesses – like any other business working in this tough economic climate, we are facing challenges at the moment," he said.

"But we believed we were strong enough to come through the other side successfully and that is what has happened."

As well as training current staff, all 600 apprentices due to be taken on at salons and academies over the next year will be fully trained in all different hair types – an offer unique to their course, he added.

Investing

"One of the issues was awareness of where the Cannock store was, so we have also launched a PR campaign," Mr Dellicompagni said.

Earlier this month, the firm revealed it would be investing more than £750,000 in a new training academy in Birmingham city centre. The move is set to create a further 15 jobs.

The training arm of the company bought the ground floor of the former Habitat store in Pinfold Street in the heart of the city centre, and a £250,000 fit-out is currently under way.

The first students are set to join the course in September.

It follows the opening of the Group's £500,000 flagship salon in the city's House of Fraser store.

The academy will be run in partnership with Stafford College.

Rooftop parking for users of flagship retail complex

A FLAGSHIP shopping complex being lined up for Cannock – expected to attract names such as Marks & Spencer and Debenhams – will feature a rooftop car park to boost other traders, it has been announced.

Town centre shopkeepers had expressed fears shoppers could struggle to park if the 200-space Beecroft Road car park is replaced with a sprawling retail development.

However council leader George Adamson revealed any scheme would include parking for a similar number of cars on top of the stores.

Council officers are contacting developers to publicise the availability of the site, and are bidding to encourage "aspirational" retailers.

Councillor Adamson said: "If this development goes ahead there will be car parking on top of the shopping centre – we won't actually lose any spaces in the long term."

Contact

"While the work is ongoing there will be some temporary spaces, then there will be roughly the same amount as we have there already once it is completed."

He added: "We are still making contact with developers. It's hard going in the midst of a recession, but we think this is the right time to start looking at it, while the market is low."

by Mark Mudie

Under the plans for Beecroft Road, up to 150,000 sq ft of retail-leisure space would be created over a number of floors. The adjacent subway would also be enhanced to improve links to the town centre.

Council chiefs believe Cannock needs to up its game to compete with Lichfield, Stafford and Walsall.

They are hoping to lure big names to the site by offering much larger stores than currently exist in the town centre. Compulsory purchase orders would be used to acquire any surrounding land needed for the larger shops.

The council-owned car park brings in £300,000 a year and Cannock Shopping Centre manager Natal Chapman wanted assurances alternative parking would be provided.

Concerns over spaces at ambitious development

TOWN centre manager Natal Chapman had expressed fears over parking should the retail complex planned for the Beecroft car park go ahead.

With Marks & Spencer and Debenhams at the forefront of ambitious plans to transform the 200-space car park into a 150,000sq ft retail complex, Mrs Chapman voiced concerns about where people would park.

She said: "If they are going to be using the car parking area though, are there going to be enough spaces?"

Pupils get all aboard RE bus

PUPILS received an educational visit with a difference when an RE bus rolled into town.

Norton Canes High and Primary schools welcomed the Kerygma Bus Ministry for the day, with pupils from both schools taking part in a range of themed activities.

Youngsters played games, completed quizzes and took part in religious education lessons.

Kerygma, which derives from the Greek word for preaching, is an interchurch organisation which teaches Christianity to children and young people throughout Staffordshire.

Classroom

Using a double decker bus, Kerygma go into schools, churches, youth and children's groups, local events, towns and villages.

It was established in 2004 by Colin Stephenson, who leads a team of workers as part of his ongoing work with Scripture Union.

The bus is a fully equipped classroom with room for up to 30 pupils on the upper deck.

Colin and his team work with pupils to develop their knowledge and understanding of Christianity.

RHODES

IT WAS announced this week that texting has overtaken speaking as the preferred means of mobile-phone communication. But it is important to get the texting right. A friend sent her child a text explaining that she had been delayed, and added an X as a kiss. The youngster was puzzled to receive the message: "May be a bit latex."

TONY Blair, seemingly bemused even to be asked the question, proudly declared that New Labour had no population policy. Today the Office for National Statistics reveals the legacy of that idiocy, with three million more mouths to feed in England and Wales than 10 years ago. The Blairs (four children, £20 million a year) live far away from the seething bedlam of our inner cities, in their mansion in leafy Buckinghamshire. And now he wants to make a political comeback.

OOPS. Tiny cock-up on the weather-forecasting front. I suggested a couple of days ago the long hot summer would begin in December. It has apparently been brought forward to the end of July. Let joy be unfettered.

EXCEPT that we Brits don't do unfettered joy very well, do we? No sooner has the mercury started to rise than the doom-mongers are predicting a sudden rise in the price of sun cream. Oh, gloom and misery.

TRADITIONALLY, of course, we Brits did not bother with sun creams. We 1950s kids were allowed to muck around the beach until we were as red as lobsters and then anointed at night with chilled calamine lotion. We didn't have a Human Rights Act back then.

I REFERRED recently to the horrors of seasickness. A reader says he has discovered the perfect, 100 per cent guaranteed cure. Stand under a big tree.

THE French city of Angers is claiming our Crown Jewels in compensation for the execution for treason in 1499 of Edward Plantagenet, Earl of Warwick. He was the last of the Plantagenet line and Angers, as the historical base of the Plantagenet family, is demanding "as redress for the execution," that the Crown Jewels be transferred from the Tower of London to Angers. Come, come, mes amis. What-ever happened to the Napoleonic spirit? You know where the jewels are. If you want them (and if you think you're 'ard enough), come and take them.

FOLLOWING my recent bits on the strange names of emulsion paints, a reader asks: "What colour is a whiter shade of pale?" I think it's a sort of Procol.

CRY havoc and unleash the geeks of war. Who cannot be stirred by the thrilling call by the Commons Intelligence and Security Committee to declare cyber-war on Britain's enemies? Mind you, it will only succeed if our geeks are smarter than their geeks. Infesting enemy computers with viruses is a bit like the old comedy routine of the doctor who tries to get the patient to take his tablet by blowing it into his mouth using a tube. It works perfectly – unless the patient blows first.

Hundreds protest at Staffords axe

HUNDREDS of people protested this week over the axing of the 3rd Battalion The Mercian Regiment, formerly known as the Staffords.

Showing support for a main rally at the Cenotaph in London, people from across the Black Country and Staffordshire gathered at war memorials across the region to show their anger at the cuts.

It comes after the MoD announced plans to disband the former Staffordshire Regiment as part of cuts to reduce the Army from 102,000 troops to 82,000 by the end of the decade.

Spiritual

In Lichfield, Tuesday's protest was organised by the Lichfield branch of the Staffordshire Regiment Association. Protesters headed to The King's Head, in Bird Street, to many the spiritual home of the Staffords. The meeting that led to their formation was held at the pub in 1705 and there is a plaque on the wall outside.

Protesters gathered at 10.30am at the city's garden of remembrance, near Lichfield Cathedral, before making their way to The King's Head. A minute's silence was also being held at 11am. Tom Mason, secretary of the Staffordshire Regiment Association's Lichfield branch, said he hoped the protests would make the Government aware of the public anger.

The 74-year-old, who lives in Chasetown said: "I have given up on the Government, we are paying for the mishandling of the country's finances."

Image of robbery suspect

An e-fit of the suspect

POLICE have released an e-fit of a man suspected of robbing a Burnwood woman as she walked by a pool in Lichfield.

The 53-year-old was attacked as she strolled alongside the city's Stowe Pool at around 5pm on March 20.

The man asked the victim for a cigarette and then punched her in the face and stole her coat and necklaces. The lady was not injured but was left shaken.

The offender is described as black, 6ft tall, stocky and aged between 25 and 30. He had dreadlocked hair and a small scar on his upper lip.

He was with two other men when the incident took place.

Anyone with information is asked to ring Staffordshire Police on 101.

Annual poll by authority

CANNOCK Chase Council has launched a survey asking for views on how it communicates with residents.

It is the second annual survey by the authority into the success of posters, leaflets, the council website, social media and other methods of sharing information with local people.

The short survey can be completed online at: www.cannockchase.gov.uk – or paper copies can be filled in at council receptions and other public places across the district. It is open until August 31.

Record is raised

PARISHIONERS in Rugeley collected a record £822 for Christian Aid, some £200 more than the sum raised in 2011. The St Augustine's churchgoers also raised £2,000 at the church's Magic Moments Flower Festival. A Strawberry tea takes place at the rectory on Sunday, August 5, from 4pm.

Appeal launched over camp near Hoard site

TRAVELLERS who lost their bid to move their caravans on to a field bordering the site where the Staffordshire Hoard was discovered have lodged an appeal.

The Maughan family want to set up a camp and live on the site near Hammerwich. They bought the plot at an auction three years ago.

Lichfield District Council ruled a camp would be inappropriate development on Green belt land.

But planning agent Alison Heine, representing the Maughans, insisted there was room for manoeuvre.

She said: "The council had taken a very safe line. The fact that it involves green belt does not automatically rule out development. It's all a balancing exercise."

Diggers

Both parties have until August 21 to submit statements containing their arguments. A hearing will be set as soon as practicable afterwards.

The plot, on the south side of Watling Street at Muckley Corner, is next door to the field where the Anglo-Saxon hoard of gold and silver was discovered in 2009.

Before Christmas, the district authority was forced to

by Marion Brennan

launch enforcement action when diggers moved in and work was carried out to level the ground and re-seed it.

The plot is owned by Terry Maughan who applied for planning permission on behalf of his estranged wife Bernadette Maughan and her sister Anne-Marie Maughan in February.

Mr Maughan and his family were previously based at the Fishpond Caravan Site in Featherstone.

They applied to change the use of the Hammerwich land from agricultural to a site for six mobile homes on four plots with septic tanks and utility rooms.

Under government guidance, up to 15 plots are allowed on a site. "So this is relatively small," said Ms Heine.

Firm wins £250,000 city bar fit-out deal

A RUGELEY creative firm has won a contract for the design and fit-out of an exclusive bar in the centre of York.

GMP Design was commissioned to design the bar in Swinegate Court. Bar Esperanza is based on the first floor of Lucia's – a popular Mediterranean restaurant.

The seven-week fit-out work – worth £250,000 – has been carried out by GMP's sister company, Kribensis Leisure Contracts, also based at Towers Business Park in the town.

The GMP design brief was to create a 150-capacity late night cocktail bar. Its design included a spiral staircase entrance.

GMP and Kribensis were established by Rugeley businessman Neil Morten.

Club's revamp looks snug

Andy Yates at the revamped Sycamore Working Mens Club in Norton Canes

THE snug is back in a retro move at a working men's club near Cannock.

The new installation is part of a refurbishment at the Sycamore Working Men's Club in Hedgesford Road, Norton Canes.

Members Andrew Gates and Nick Rhodes paid for and carried out the work themselves over 10 days, moving the bar, creating the snug, laying new carpets and painting the interior. Manager Lisa Gates, Andrew's wife, hopes the transformation will help boost business at the venue, which is almost 100 years old. It will be called the Viper Room and will be officially launched tomorrow night (Friday) when local band Marquis Drive performs.

Lisa said: "We've got 150 members but only about 35 to 40 regularly turn up. With the snug back and a fresh new look, we're hoping to attract more people back."

Ex-chairman hands over charity cheques

Hayley Cliff and Kathy Coe of the Pathway Project, Bernard Derrick, Judith Derrick and Helen Relihan of St Giles

LICHFIELD District Council's former chairman has handed over cheques to his nominated charities.

During his year in office, Councillor Bernard Derrick helped to raise £2,049 – split between St Giles Hospice and the Pathway Project.

Councillor Derrick, chairman from May 2011 to May 2012, was on hand in the council chamber to present cheques of £1,024 to each cause.

He said: "It was my pleasure in my role as chairman to help raise money for charity. I chose St Giles Hospice and the Pathway Project because they hold a special place in my heart and work so hard to support the people of Lichfield District when they are facing difficult times in their lives.

"Thank you to everyone who supported me in my year as chairman and to everyone who gave so generously to my chosen charities."

Services

Pathway Project provides services to women and children who suffer domestic and sexual abuse, and has grown over 21 years from a telephone helpline to a whole range of services including refuge accommodation, children's services and outreach work in the community.

Pathway Project director Kathy Coe said: "We are really grateful to Councillor Bernard Derrick for choosing us as one of his charities. In addition to the much needed funding, he has generously given his time to raise our profile both locally and nationally."

Serial burglar sent to jail for six-and-a-half years

A ONE-MAN crimewave who burgled 47 homes in a six-month crime spree has been jailed for six-and-a-half years.

Sean Crabtree targeted homes in Norton Canes and Hednesford as well as the Pelsall and Bloxwich areas of Walsall. He stole children's Christmas presents from one home in Bloxwich, while another house was burgled as his elderly victim lay bed-bound.

Sean Crabtree – jailed

The 43-year-old also stole more than £14,000 of jewellery and medals from another victim in Aldridge.

Police said many of his victims had their lives "turned upside down" by the crimes.

Dc Andy Bellingham, from Walsall CID, said it was "sickening" to think of how many lives had been affected. Many of the victims were pensioners or young families.

Crabtree was caught by police as he eyed the home of what would have been his 48th victim in Long Meadow Road, Walsall, on March 11.

Wanted

He got out of his car and checked the house before driving off, only to be arrested a short while later by officers who found he was already wanted for burglary in Lichfield Road, Bloxwich.

Crabtree, of Bridgewater Close, Walsall Wood, was charged with seven counts of burglary but asked for 40 others to be taken into consideration.

At Wolverhampton crown court, he admitted the offences, which all happened between October 2011 and March 2012.

Police said the sentence still reflected the gravity of his crimes.

A joint investigation into Crabtree's crime spree was carried out by Staffordshire and West Midlands police forces.

Owen Palmer, Faye Palmer and Abigail Hearn enjoy fun and games in Cannock Park

Events are ongoing throughout the six-week holidays.

WLCT senior play development officer Andrea Tunnicliffe said: "It was a really good turnout for the first event, no doubt helped by the lovely weather."

"We've got activities planned for the rest of the summer so there is plenty for youngsters to do."

Visit www.cannockchase.gov.uk to download a full schedule.

Events take place in parks, youth centres and museums across Staffordshire, while several day trips have also been organised.

Spy camera bid to deter poachers at beauty spot

A FUNDRAISING appeal has been launched to pay for spy cameras to catch wildlife poachers who are targeting farms and beauty spots in South Staffordshire.

The move comes days after a deer on Cannock Chase was shot dead. The animal was loaded into a vehicle off Penkridge Bank, near Etchingham.

A resident on a nearby caravan site called the police after hearing three muffled shots at 1.30am last Tuesday (July 17). Volunteers from the Rural Policing Liaison Group found a pool of blood at the roadside.

Raiders are also believed to have struck at Brocton Heights, near Stafford, at the end of last month, while hare poachers have been reported around the villages of Haughton and Gnosall.

Targets

Rural Policing Liaison Group founder member Faye Burton appealed to the public not to feed the deer on the roadside because it would lead the animals to return to the spot, making them sitting targets for drive-by poachers. She said:

by Marion Brennan

"There are Poacher Watch signs everywhere, asking people not to feed the deer, yet the public is still enticing the deer out into the open with food."

Poaching in the county is up by 17 per cent on last year, she said, with gangs travelling from Manchester and other urban areas, killing to order.

The volunteers' work is hindered by the absence of cameras to properly monitor the situation. "But we have no funding," said Faye.

The group aims to buy at least four of the £400 pieces of equipment to instal at blackspots and also loan out to farmers.

To help, contact the group on 07973 665996.

Couple left blue as pet parrot flies from cage

by Marion Brennan

A PINK Floyd-loving parrot has escaped from a Cheslyn Hay garden to the distress of his owners.

Bluey will be missing his usual cornflakes and toast for breakfast after disappearing almost two weeks ago and fears are growing for his safe return.

The short-tailed Senegal parrot flew off from Bill and June Birch's home in Hawthorne Road on July 12 and has not been seen since.

Retired firefighter Bill said the bird had "bags of character" but was not very street-wise. "We feel bereft without him," he said.

Bluey has another unusual trait for a parrot - he does not speak.

But Bill says he is extremely sociable, loves a fuss and will not be able to fend for himself if still flying free.

The pet bird was let out of his cage as usual while Bill was gardening at the back of house. He had perched on Bill's shoulder in the pergola when he spread his wings and headed skyward.

"He flies around the garden but has never flown away before," said the 59-year-old grandfather. "We are good pals and I miss him. We hate soaps so when Coronation Street comes on we go upstairs, I'll put a Pink Floyd album on and he sits on my shoulder while I play cards."

"He can tell the time - at quarter to nine every night he squawks to have the cover pulled over his cage. He doesn't talk but he chatters away to himself."

"He was foisted on us by one of our daughter's boyfriends when he emi-

Bill and June Birch with Bluey's empty cage grated to Australia but we became really fond of him."

He added: "We've placed notices on shops in the village and did have a sighting of him just over a week ago but we still haven't got him back."

Comedian

Bill said Bluey had distinctive vivid green colouring with a yellow 'waistcoat' and a grey head.

"He's an endearing creature, an acrobatic comedian - we're desperate to have him back."

If anyone spots Bluey, they can contact Bill on 01922 417071.

Funding for statue is almost complete

I ENJOYED reading Joe Arch's poem in the Chronicle 12 July, about his experience with his pit pony.

He, and other readers, may be interested to know that a full-sized bronze statue of a pit pony and a miner is to be erected in Burntwood around next March.

After eight years of planning, funds are almost raised to complete the project.

Some funding has been raised by selling space on the base of the statue to the public, as was done in Hednesford. There is still time to donate to have a name on the plinth and is a minimum of £20. What is really needed is for local businesses to give larger donations so that all the money is there for completion of the project.

For details, visit www.burntwoodchaseheritage.weebly.com or ring 01543 677789.

Looking for town centres to be vibrant

IN A recent edition of the Chronicle one of your letter writers accused me of being responsible for plans to charge for on-street parking in our town centres.

I may be responsible for lots of things but, credit where credit is due, the plans to charge for on-street parking in come from our Conservative controlled County Council. This is the same council that refused to sell some land in Hednesford that was holding up the regeneration of the town centre and putting the success of the scheme at risk. Labour controlled Cannock Chase District had to issue compulsory purchase orders to buy the land from the county to keep the scheme on track.

Cannock Chase Council is committed to improving our town centres and has set up a £300,000 town centre improvement fund. And we are using the £100,000 the council received from the Portas fund to give further help to encourage traders to set up businesses in our towns, despite the double dip recession. The increase in parking charges was in the proposed budgets of the Cannock Chase Tory and Lib Dem groups.

The Labour Group has no intention of introducing parking charges in Hednesford.

We want our town centres to be vibrant and attractive places to shop and to create jobs for local people.

Project is vital for survival of economy

IN reply to 'Village development vital' - Chronicle, July 12). I am delighted to see that Simon Hoare (managing director of Community Connect) has drawn up plans on behalf of Northcreek Estates.

The proposed development of Penkridge town (it is NOT a village and never has been) with 9-10,000 residents of which only 551 lodged objections - is now pressingly vital for the survival of its economy.

Penkridge desperately needs first time homebuyers to ensure our younger generation stays; job opportunities; another supermarket other than Co-Op owned; a hotel and a nursing home for the elderly.

Such a project as this will surely give Penkridge an opportunity to retain and claw back finance which should have been used to serve the needs of this community.

Games turning into fiasco

I WOULD like to comment on the fiasco that the Olympics have turned into. The first thing is the location, London. To believe that putting the Games in the capital via a transport system that on an average day is chaotic, is something of a joke. Then we have the security, with soldiers about to lose their job being brought in. Since the age of 161 was involved in athletics, shooting and archery. I love the sport and those that train hard to get where they are. But as ever, we have to be content with the scraps from London Plc.

Demise is caused by big stores

AFTER working in the centre of Cannock for nearly 15 years I have seen a lot of changes over the years.

When my shop first opened I remember Cannock being a bustling town with a good range of shops to cater for most people.

More or less overnight I witnessed Cannock's demise when the big supermarkets started pulling shoppers out of the town. Shoppers can park for free while the town's other car parks were too expensive and poorly maintained.

The multi-storey is an embarrassment. Instead of drawing shoppers it was attracting youths, taking drugs and drinking.

Hednesford shopkeepers could face the same battle, though there is a bit of hope with cash being pumped in.

Cannock's shoppers deserve more. I'm sure they would want to stay local if they could, but there is less and less choice.

A wonderful friend

I CANNOT think Jesus all laughter would ban I cannot imagine that part of his plan.

For once at a wedding he went as a guest

And I'm sure there was laughter from those whom he blessed.

I cannot think Jesus with hard words would speak

To someone who'd fallen because they were weak,

For once at a well a poor woman he met

And forgave her with words she would never forget.

I cannot think Jesus would fast walk way

If someone in need called upon him one day,

For many were helped by his wonderful grace, When they saw the compassion and love on his face.

I do believe Jesus can be very sad

When we do the things that are sinful and bad,

I do believe too, in his eye there's a tear

When his name we disown just because of our fear.

I do believe Jesus has died for our sin

And knocks at our hearts so we might let him in.

I do believe no one could ever quite be

Such a wonderful friend to a sinner like me.

BOILER SCRAPPAGE SCHEME IS BACK, GET A £400 VOUCHER FOR YOUR OLD BOILER

In 2010 the government ran a scheme in which domestic home owners could replace their expensive to run gas boiler for a new condensing boiler, this scheme was set up to help home owners with the initial cost of replacing the boiler plus helping the government in reaching its carbon emissions target.

The £400 voucher could be redeemed when replacing an old, inefficient central heating boiler for a new high efficient gas boiler.

APH Services Ltd of Rugeley have re introduced the Scrappage scheme for a limited time, Matt Clarke of APH Services Ltd said "the £400 voucher is a great way for local home owners to replace their boilers during these hard economic times."

Vouchers will be given to the first 100 customers meeting the criteria so you are advised to inform family and friends ASAP. A rated gas condensing boilers are 90% efficient and with the correct thermostatic controls can save you 30% on your gas bill, that's up to £350 per year in an average 3 bed house.

Crunch talks planned on charges at parking bays

Expert checks out lots

Ben Gamble, left, from Cuttlesones, with Lars Tharp, John Giffard, Chillington Hall owner, and Stephen Deuchar, the director of Art Fund

ANTIQUES Roadshow star Lars Tharp cast his expert eye over a collection of paintings, glasswork and sculptures which were auctioned to raise money for the Staffordshire branch of the Art Fund.

The presenter and historian praised the work of the fund, which was instrumental in securing the future of the Staffordshire Hoard, during the auction at Chillington Hall in Brewwood. It had been organised by Cuttlesones' Auctioneers and saw about 20 different pieces of art - including work by local artists - auctioned off.

Mr Tharp said such events played a vital role in raising the money needed to secure some of the nation's most iconic treasures.

COUNCILLORS in Cannock Chase are to hold an extraordinary meeting to decide if extra pay and display parking bays should be introduced.

Members of the district council's joint parking committee will debate proposals to convert four existing 'no waiting' zones to paid parking. The summit is expected within a month.

Under revised plans 23 new bays - in Manor Avenue, Stafford Road, Wolverhampton Road and Mill Street - will levy fees of 50p per half hour.

However free parking at 37 bays - in Market Place, Church Street, High Green and Queen Street - will be protected. A 60p rate for every half hour was suggested in plans to raise in more than £150,000 a year.

Outlining the original proposals to charge at all 60 bays, Councillor Patrick Corfield told a meeting last week: "I think it's a good idea and it will help our traders."

But Councillor Janos Toth said: "What we are talking about is charging for areas where people can park now for no charge. There are people really struggling and they don't want to pay 50p for parking."

John Rowley, county councillor for Cannock, said he would be happy to pay a small charge for convenient short term parking and Councillor Corfield added the move had the support of the town's shopping centre manager, Natal Chapman.

When Councillor Toth said he remained "totally against" charging at existing free sites, Councillor Corfield tabled an amendment, suggesting only the 23 new bays - in Manor Avenue, Stafford Road, Wolverhampton Road, and Mill Street - should levy fees.

Noise nuisance helpline

NOISE nuisance problems in Cannock Chase can now be reported 24 hours a day. The district council's environmental health team is now able to respond to calls out of normal office hours and residents can call 01543 462621 at any time.

MEMORY LANE

Chase Terrace FC line up outside the Victoria Inn

A family outside the Hollygrove Club, in Hollygrove Lane

Families turn out in their Sunday bests to get on this picture in Princess Street

The rear of Bridgecross Farm, now set for demolition

Boundaries unclear after merger of mining villages

CHASE Terrace is one of the old mining villages that spread out and merged with other villages so its boundaries today are unclear.

As a result, Burntwood Town was formed, but that is confusing as Burntwood village already existed.

Perhaps something like Brendewode Chase would be more fitting as the old name for Burntwood is kept but gives a nod towards the Chase villages of Chasetown and Chase Terrace.

The picture to the left shows the Bridgecross Farm, from the rear, on Sankeys Corner. This is currently due to be demolished.

This farm stood in isolation for many years before the houses and shops engulfed it. Thomas Sankey, the first tenant, leaves his name to the area as his memorial. The area got its first proper buses circa 1913, and they went from the Victoria pub in Chase Terrace to the LNWR station on Brownhills Bridge.

Later they also went to Hednesford station, but they were sent to the Front in the Great War and never seen again. It took a petition to parliament in 1921 to get a bus service again.

Situated in Hollygrove Lane it was a Liberal Club before becoming a Working Mans Club, but it was originally the home of the Vicar of St John's Mission Church in the High Street around the corner.

Princess Street was a popular place to shop in the early days and in the early 1900s there was around 13 shops and off licences listed in the trade guides. The local populace all wanted to be on the photograph and turned out in their Sunday best. Places that sold alcohol were on every street despite the abundance of public houses.

The Salvation Army had a barracks in Ironstone Road for a few years, but gave up and went to Cannock. The premises survive and is now a motor parts factors shop.

Refreshments

Every chapel and pub seemed to have a gymnastic or football team in those early years and Chase Terrace FC are pictured outside the Victoria Inn, the trainer holding a large jug of beer. One presumes the young lad on the right did not share the refreshments.

Country house trip on cards

ETCHING HILL WI

MEMBERS continued the celebration of the Queen's Jubilee in style at their June meeting.

Arriving dressed in their 'Sunday best' they were greeted with the spectacle of the village hall adorned in flags, bunting, and balloons plus long street tables with floral decorations and food, all prepared by the committee.

Founder member Helen Dawson aged 101, gave an interesting talk about her childhood spent in Buckinghamshire and her links to the Bernie family who have lived there for 16 centuries.

Following refreshments and a jubilee quiz, featuring the history of our Royal Family, everyone was kept amused by the musical interpretations of well known songs carried out by members.

A jubilee hat competition produced some wonderful creations, with the first prize going to Heather Williams.

The evening finished with a Royal toast and the singing of God Save The Queen.

July sees a visit to Heath House, in Tean, Staffordshire, as featured in the television series Country Houses Restored.

BGT's Jean the star of Big Jubilee Event

Patriotic organist Jean Martyn at the Big Jubilee Event in Cannock

CANNOCK Lions Club have had a great finale to their year. They formed a partnership with Cannock Rotary and Soroptimists to celebrate the Queen's Diamond jubilee.

The weather was not too kind for The Big Jubilee Event but Jean Martyn from Britain's Got Talent ensured the party went off with a bang. Acts throughout the day entertained and the facepainting and bouncy castles were free.

There was a Jubilee Bash with Barbara Taylor and All that Jazz which ended with 'God Save the Queen'. The club held a Newlife charity sale at the Roman Way Hotel. Nearly £600 was raised for the club and Newlife sales were £3,500.

Prospective Hedgesford branch members had a stall at the town's own jubilee celebrations.

The Olympic Torch came to town and Lichfield Lion John May was a Torchbearer. Some Lions members had a stall in Tamworth. Doug Smith will continue as president for the next 12 months.

Plant grower gives talk

NEW president Gill Crutchley opened the June meeting and welcomed all the ladies, and visitors too.

After minutes were read, Gill introduced the speaker Brian White, a Methodist Minister, who also grows pelargoniums. He passed various plants round and they gave off different smells like lemons and peppermint.

He said he supplied Prince Charles with plants every year at Highgrove and told funny stories. Mr White sold a few of his plants to the ladies. He said there were more than 200 varieties.

The annual trip will be to the Black Country Museum in August, followed by a meal at the Crooked House.

Future is secured after deal agreed for Lloyds

CANNOCK Chase MP Aidan Burley has welcomed news that the future of a bank branch in the town has been secured. The Co-operative Group agreed terms with Lloyds TSB Bank to buy 632 branches. One of those is the Cheltenham and Gloucester branch on Market Hall Street.

The deal means the Co-operative Banking Group will have around seven per cent of the personal current account market. The sale was demanded by European regulators after Lloyds bought HBOS during the financial crisis. It will give the Co-op up to an extra 4.8 million customers.

Mr Burley said: "I welcome this deal which will ensure the future of the existing branch in Cannock and the jobs that go with it."

Duo's wedding dace

Jim and Jean Dace celebrating their golden wedding

A COUPLE whose love blossomed as childhood sweethearts are celebrating their golden wedding anniversary.

Jim and Jean Dace were pupils together at Great Wyrley school and rekindled their relationship when they were reunited on the dancefloor of The Forum in Cannock.

Now both 70, the couple tied the knot at St Luke's Church in Cannock on July 7, 1962, before a honeymoon in Torquay.

Builder Jim, who ran his own company Chaplain Construction until six years ago, helped build their home in Chaplain Road, Heath Hayes. Office worker, Mrs Dace worked at Joseph Lucas in Bridgtown and Staffordshire Farmers.

The couple have two daughters, Julie, aged 49 and 48-year-old Susan and a son Andrew, 42. They also have nine grandchildren and enjoy caravanning together.

Mrs Dace said their long marriage was down to them pulling together in times of need.

She added: "You have also got to have lots of hobbies."

'Tide turning' as more find jobs

COMMERCE bosses claim "the tide is turning" as the number of people out of work in Staffordshire fell for a fourth successive month.

Dole queues shortened in Stafford, Lichfield and Cannock in June, latest figures show. In Cannock, there was a fall of 64 to 2,223 or 3.6 per cent and in Stafford the number was down to 1,713, or 2.1 per cent.

For Lichfield, 94 fewer people claimed Jobseeker's Allowance than in May, down to 1,398 or 2.3 per cent of the working population.

In South Staffordshire, 2.5 per cent claimed the benefit after numbers dropped by 23 to 1,662.

Earnings

John Lamb, spokesman for Staffordshire Chamber of Commerce, welcomed the figures.

"It's extremely good news for everyone - for businesses, and for people who are looking for work," he said.

"It does look as though the tide is turning."

Nationwide, unemployment

fell by 65,000 between March and May to 2.58m.

The drop was the fourth in the row and comes as more jobs are being created, especially for people aged over 65. Average earnings have also improved, increasing by 1.5 per cent in the year to May.

However nationally the numbers claiming jobseeker's allowance jumped by 6,100 last month to 1.6m including an increase of 8,000 among women to 530,700, the highest figure for 17 years.

In the West Midlands, the claimant count for June was 162,407 or 4.7 per cent.

Latest walks by ramblers

A MODERATE nine-and-a-half mile trek by the Chase & District Ramblers this weekend will be followed by a five-miler next Wednesday, August 1. The first is at Stourport-on-Severn on Sunday (July 29). Meet Hednesford rail station car park, Anglesey Street for a prompt 8.30am departure. Wednesday's walk is at Blithfield Reservoir. The meeting point is Butter Cross, Abbots Bromley, at 6.30pm.

SWIMMERS have to wait a little longer to dive into a new modernised pool at Chase Leisure Centre.

The opening of the facility has been delayed due to a technical problem.

The hi-tech pool was scheduled to open on August 8 but a problem emerged over the tiling used in the new six-lane, 25-metre competition-standard baths. It will remain closed until September.

The pool, which will boast a 200-seat spectator gallery and a moveable floor, is being delivered as part of a £6m redevelopment of the Stafford Road venue.

Cannock Chase Council has been working with contractor GF Tomlinson on the project that kicked off in April last year. Other facilities, including the state-of-the-art Profiles Health and Fitness Centre have already opened.

Some other new facilities will be ready next month, including an air-conditioned fitness and dance studio, modernised changing rooms, showers and toilets for the ground-floor sports hall, a community function room, three new treatment rooms and a cafe.

Councillor Christine Mitchell, culture and sport leader, said: "I hope swimmers can bear with us for a little while longer."

Stuart Murray, chief executive of WLCT, which manages the centre, said: "When the new pool opens and work on the site is completed this will be a wonderful leisure facility."

Warning issued on raids

THIEVES are breaking into sheds and then using tools to force their way into homes in Cannock Chase and Lichfield. On June 1, thieves tried to break in to a house in Gorse Lane, Rugeley, by using a spade they had taken from the shed. Police are warning people to keep sheds secure.

MORE than 800 Hednesford pupils took part in their own version of the classic gameshow It's a Knockout.

The students, from Kingsmead Technology College, in Kings Avenue, competed against each other climbing and sliding while getting covered head to toe in foam.

Assistant head Luke Baker said it was a way of rewarding the students hard work during the past 12 months.

On Saturday, August 4, Hednesford Park will host its own version of It's a Knockout from 11am to 4pm.

Railway line scheme is a 'shot in the arm' – MP

TRANSPORT bosses say plans to electrify the Rugeley to Walsall rail line at a cost of £30m will bring more employment opportunities to Staffordshire.

The work will be carried out between 2014 and 2019 and the plans were also described as a 'shot in the arm' by the Cannock Chase MP Aidan Burley.

The Department for Transport has given the go-ahead for the electrification of the Chase Line as part of the West Midlands Rail Development Plan.

The scheme was first talked about in the 1960s and Mr Burley said he was delighted it was finally going ahead.

He said: "This is not only great news for commuters, who will experience faster, smoother and more frequent journeys. There are also major economic benefits to be had by improving our access to the markets of Birmingham, London and the South East."

"This will go a huge way to help support my efforts to bring business to the area, and reinforce the message that Cannock Chase is the place to come to in Staffordshire – to live, work and for leisure. This really is fantastic news for Cannock Chase and all local people.

County Council's cabinet member for highways and transport Mike Maryon said: "Good connectivity is vital as it brings in more opportunities – including those in employment and leisure. It also increases the attractiveness of towns along the line as places to live, work and do business."

"As a result of the electrification of the line, we will see faster services, an expanded timetable and more capacity for rail users."

He added the project would complement London Midland's recently announced increased capacity on services to Tamworth, Lichfield, Rugeley, Stafford, Stone and Penkridge.

Oliver Woolley runs Oliver Charles Photography – a wedding and social photography business and has shown it is possible to succeed despite the current climate.

Oliver, aged 25, gave up a BA in fine art to take up photography and is also set feature in the leading Freelance Photographer magazine.

His business has gone from strength-to-strength since securing a full grant to set up his business with The Prince's Trust last September. Oliver has been able to set up a full website and a studio based in Rugeley town centre, which has recently expanded due to a higher increase in bookings.

Design your perfect cake

'Milestone babies' in the picture as clinic turns 25

Lola Turley, back, with mum Marina and sister Daisy

Zak Howley with mum and dad Shareena and Fred

TWO children from Norton Canes have become 'milestone babies' in the history of Midland Fertility Services (MFS), as the Aldridge-based clinic commemorates its 25th anniversary.

The birth of Lola Turley in July 1996 marked the arrival of the 3,500th MFS baby and, in January 2009, Zach Howley became the service's 2,000th baby born using the ICSI technique – where, under high magnification, a single sperm is directed straight into the centre of an egg. Both children star in a unique silver anniversary photograph of 25 MFS 'milestone babies'.

Lola's parents Marina, aged 43, and Lee, 42, were trying to conceive for four years before being referred to MFS. ICSI treatment was recommended and Lola was born following their fifth embryo transfer.

Medal

Marina said: "Lola is so very special, as is our second daughter who was conceived naturally."

Zach's dad Fred, 41, had a roofing accident in 1993, suffering injuries to his lower spine and being unable to walk – although he later achieved a bronze medal with the British wheelchair basketball team in the 2004 Paralympics. The injuries also severely reduced the quality of his sperm.

Meanwhile, Shareena, 39, had been diagnosed with polycystic ovary syndrome which reduced the quality of the eggs she was able to produce. After nine years of fertility treatment they eventually conceived thanks to donated embryos created using the ICSI technique.

Medical director Dr Gillian Lockwood said: "The anniversary photograph celebrates the ground-breaking discovery of IVF and the lives of all the babies born after treatment at MFS."

FOCUS ON RUGELEY

Visitors to home can recharge batteries

VISITORS to an historic home near Rugeley can recharge their batteries – quite literally – during their stay.

Those with an electric plug-in vehicle can recharge overnight at Colton House or 'top up' while enjoying a cup of tea in the 1.5 acres of tranquil gardens around the distinctive 18th century home.

Gay Lawrence from Colton House said: "It is great to be able to be part of the growing network of pods around the country. We believe this will encourage the take up of electric vehicles."

Robust

"At Colton House we are proud of our green credentials. With a productive vegetable garden, local produce and a Gold Award from the Green Tourism Business Scheme as well as a Staffordshire Environmental Quality Mark we are showing what can be done."

Colton House has two Electric Vehicle (EV) Charging Stations, donated by Zero Carbon World.

Each Charging Station is simple, robust and reliable and comprises a 13-Amp socket and 32-Amp connector. Zero Carbon World donates Charging Stations to the hotel and leisure industry to encourage the use of electric vehicles.

Trust in memory of former model names MP as patron

CANNOCK Chase MP Aidan Burley has been announced patron of the Rugeley-based Trudy's Trust charity.

The charity was set up by Mark Leeson and his family, following the death of his daughter Trudy Shingler, a forensic psychologist, in February 2011.

Trudy, a former model, was previously crowned Miss Wolves and Miss Aston Villa. She died of a brain tumour aged only 35, leaving behind a husband Lea and three-year-old daughter Phoenix.

To mark Mr Burley's appointment, Trudy's Trust is holding a craft sale at the MP's Help Zone on Saturday (July 28) from 10.30am to 4pm. Hand-made decorations and stationery will be for sale to raise funds for the charity, and the Trudy's Trust team will be on hand to talk about their work.

Fantastic

Trudy's Trust aims to raise awareness and funds for brain tumour research, as well as offer support to other families.

"We've been looking to appoint a patron for some time now," said Mr Leeson.

"To have the patronage of Aidan Burley is fantastic news for the charity and we hope that more people become aware of us."

Mr Burley said: "I was deeply touched when I heard the story of Trudy and her family. I think it is truly admirable how at the same time as coming to terms with their dreadful loss, they have been inspired to raise awareness and help other families going through this situation wherever they can.

Fundraising manager Barrie Watts, founder Mark Leeson and Aidan Burley

"I am very proud to be patron of Trudy's Trust and very much look forward to working with them in the future."

The charity attends regular local community days and have their own events programme. Most recently, they held a hugely successful masked summer ball.

Deputy manager Samantha Simpson with Year 1 children from Chancel Primary School in Rugeley outside the Barnardo's shop in Upper Brook Street

Pupils' plates go on show

YOUNGSTERS from Rugeley got in the right royal spirit for Jubilee year when they designed plates for a charity competition.

Barnardo's, on Upper Brook Street, asked Year 1 pupils from the town's Chancel Primary School to design Jubilee-themed plates to go on display in the shop.

Some 33 pupils took part with Scarlett Burns' design wowing the judges to take first place, followed by runners-up Leah Bolton and Morgan Harvey.

Store manager Katie Swann said: "We're a children's charity and wanted to do something which involved the local children."

"They thankfully agreed and every single child in that year took part and they all did a fantastic job."

The store is desperately in need of new stock donations following a recent flood.

Call 01889 577339 to get in touch.

Retailers' rail line scheme backing

EXCITING plans to electrify the Rugeley to Walsall line have been welcomed by traders in the town.

Chris Green, chairman of the Rugeley Traders Association, says the news that the Department for Transport has given the go-ahead for the £30m electrification of the Chase Line will help boost town trade.

He said: "We have a seriously obscure range of independent shops here in Rugeley which is great."

"We have stuff like reptile shops and bridal shops and I think there will be now more of an attraction for people to come here."

Employment

The work to the line will be carried out between 2014 and 2019.

It is being done as part of the West Midlands Rail Development Plan which councillors claim will bring more employment opportunities to the area.

The county council's cabinet member for highways and transport Mike Maryon said the project would complement London Midland's recently announced increased capacity on services to Tamworth, Lichfield, Rugeley, Stafford, Stone and Penkridge.

It follows Network Rail's plans to spend £5.4m increasing the speed along the line from 45mph to 75mph.

Businesses quids in after awards night

Newlife receive the Notable Charity award from Aidan Burley MP

Dog Aid also benefited from the raffle on the night

THE Newlife Foundation was named Notable Charity at the first ever Cannock Chase Business Awards – but three other worthy causes were also quids in.

Newlife, which has been raising money for disabled children for almost 20 years, beat off competition from the Martin Woodward Cancer Trust, Dog Aid and the fledgling charity the Hibbs Lupus Trust to win the award, presented by Cannock Chase MP Aidan Burley.

However, none of the charities were left empty-handed as a raffle held on the awards night raised £800, which has been split between all four.

Business awards organiser Steve Mallows, form the bestofcannock, handed out the cheques.

He said: "We are very happy to raise awareness of local charities and – in our own small way – have a real affect on local people's lives.

"The whole ethos of the awards was about keeping money in our area to help boost the local economy.

"The charities we have donated to are all part of that and have faced their own struggles because of the recession.

"We want to give back to them on a local level," he added.

Donna pounds streets to raise pounds for Harry

A CANNOCK woman raised almost £400 by putting her best foot forward for a tribute walk.

Donna Williams took part in the Walk For Harry – remembering 11-year-old Harry Moseley who died of brain cancer – and described it as one of the most emotional experiences of her life.

Harry had raised more than £500,000 for cancer research before he died and fundraising in his name has now passed £1 million.

Donna, from Cannock, was inspired to take part in the 10-mile walk in Birmingham after hearing Harry's story on the local news and how he made and sold bracelets for cancer-related charities.

Friendly

Donna thought he was such a wonderful brave boy and so decided to get involved.

The walk began after the biggest communal zumba warm-up to get everyone motivated. Donna said: "I couldn't believe the excitement and friendly atmosphere."

"People were standing outside their houses cheering us on, handing out sweets and cups of water."

"It's certainly not something I do every Sunday but the thought of doing it in memory of Harry gave me all the motivation I ever needed."

All the money raised will be split

Donna Williams from Cannock, who raised £400 from the Walk for Harry between the Birmingham Children's Hospital and Acorns Children's Hospice, two of the charities already supported by the company Donna works for, employment experts Pertemps People Development Group (PPDG).

The sports division of the company also works closely with Blakenhale School in Sheldon where Harry was a pupil. "My colleagues at our Walsall office all got behind me and the company doubled my fund raising for two very worthy causes," said Donna. "For me, finishing in two and a half hours was a personal achievement; it was particularly overwhelming to be presented with a medal to prove I'd done it."

"I'm sure Harry would have been extremely proud of everyone who took part," she added.

Get union flag rug for red carpet treatment

A CANNOCK company is set to make its debut TV appearance at the end of the month – and is celebrating the occasion by offering a limited edition rug to Chronicle readers.

Happy Feet Floors Ltd, will feature on Channel 5's Half Built House on July 31. The company, based in Walsall Road, supplied and fitted carpet and underlay in two bedrooms in a house which features in the programme.

The brand new series sees tough talking property guru Sian Astley come to the aid of those who have started their home renovation, but have no idea how to finish it.

Happy Feet owner Alex Neale said the company was only too happy to help. "Everyone here is very excited for the show to air on TV and see the finished results," he said. "We supply and fit all kinds of flooring from carpet, laminate and wood to vinyl and a selection of rugs and this was a chance for us to show off our skills."

To celebrate the occasion, readers are being offered the red carpet treatment in the form of 100 per cent pure wool Twenty12 rug.

The inspiration behind this year's Union flag carpet for the Bafta TV awards, Plantation Rug Company's limited edition is stocked by Happy Feet Floors in Cannock and is the

Mother claims she was bitten by fox in garden

Lisa Pearce on sunlounger in her garden

The 42-year-old shows off her scalp after the attack

A MOTHER claims she was bitten by a fox as she lay on a sun lounger in the garden of her Hednesford home.

Lisa Pearce, aged 42, felt an animal tug her hair as she was sitting with her three-year-old daughter Holly but thought it was her pet cat Fuss. When she realised it was a fox she tried to fend it off, but the animal became aggressive and sank its teeth into her head.

She managed to shield Holly from the attack and the fox fled after former teacher Ms Pearce hit it in the face.

But when she put her hands to her head she saw she was bleeding. "I thought I'd been scalped. It was so painful and I was hugely shaken up," said Ms Pearce. "I took Holly inside, terrified it would come back and attack her."

Ms Pearce, whose home backs on to parkland in Granary Close, needed hospital treatment for scalp wounds.

Supermarket

She took antibiotics to counter any diseases carried by the animal.

It is not the first time a person has reported being attacked by a fox. In March, civil servant Seb Baker, 29, was attacked by a red fox as he walked to his home in Kent home from the supermarket.

He told how the fox, which had been sitting on a kerb at the side of the road, followed him into an alleyway and leapt at him, circling him like prey and trying to snatch his shopping bag filled with food.

Eventually, Mr Baker resorted to offering the animal his loaf of garlic bread and the fox scampered off.

Despite reports, not everyone is convinced that foxes randomly attack people. The RSPCA says foxes they would do so only if provoked.

And earlier this year, BBC Springwatch presenter Chris Packham moved to defend foxes, stating he did not believe accounts of them attacking humans.

He said fears the animals had "gone bad, attacking everything", were without foundation.

NEWS

Company hopes orders will lead to jobs boost

A CHESLYN Hay business says several major new orders over the next few months that should lead to new jobs. PP Electrical Systems managing director Tony Hague said one of the new projects was worth up to £3 million.

He said: "It is one of a number of exciting new projects in the UK and abroad that are in the pipeline."

The company, which has a 40,000sq ft base at Landwood Green, currently employs about 210 people. It has recently announced plans to double the size of its turnover to £50m by 2015.

More than £1m is being invested in the business each year and a sales director has been appointed to help its growth.

Arsonist is to serve an indefinite prison term

AN ARSONIST who set fire to a row of flats in Rugeley has been jailed indefinitely for public protection.

Ricky Morris, of Hedgerow Close, Hedsnesford, put a bag of rubbish against the door of one of the flats in Upper Brook Street and set it alight.

Arsonist Ricky Morris

Freedom of Chase plan welcomed

THE under-threat 3rd Battalion the Mercian Regiment, formerly known as the Staffords, may be granted the freedom of Cannock Chase.

Plans to grant the power to bestow the honour were given the nod by Cannock Chase Council's cabinet and the matter will now go to the full council.

A Freedom of Entry award would also be created and would be granted to current serving uniformed organisations connected with Cannock Chase. This grants organisations the freedom to march through the district's streets.

The authority plans to create one Honorary Freeman of the District each year, with the award granted at a specially-convened council meeting. A hand-decorated velvet scroll, sealed with the council's corporate seal and freedom casket, would be presented by the council chairman.

A Freedom Board would be created at the Civic Centre to display the Honorary Freeman of the district and organisations that have been granted Freedom of Entry.

If approved, the first Freeman of the district will be named later this year.

Fat burner at restaurant

A CANNOCK-based weight-loss coach has teamed up with a Hedsnesford restaurant to offer a healthy option for people trying to lose weight. Stuart Degville, 32, runs Fat Burner Bootcamp at Heath Hayes Park, in Wimblebury Road. He has asked the staff at India Red, in Market Street, to create a healthy options menu so that people can dine out and still eat well.

A man in the flat, Ivor Merriman, and next door neighbour Linda Perry had to be rescued by fire crews because their only way out was engulfed in smoke. Around £2,000 worth of damage was caused to the building, Stafford crown court heard.

Prosecutor Mr Paul Spratt said Morris's motive was still not clear, although there was a suggestion it had been over a debt of as little as 25p. But the defendant denied going into a pub after starting the blaze and boasting about it.

Morris, aged 27, admitted arson with intent to endanger the lives of Claudio Coleman and Ivor Merriman, and arson being reckless as to whether the life of Linda Perry was endangered.

Parole

Judge Simon Tonking directed that Morris should serve at least three-and-a-half years before the parole board consider whether it is safe to release him.

Mr Spratt said Morris started the blaze on January 4 – only hours after he had been given a conditional discharge by Cannock magistrates for criminal damage.

Police arrested Morris in a nearby pub minutes after the blaze had been put out.

The court heard Morris had committed 37 previous offences, including six for criminal damage.

Mr Chris Clark, defending, said: "He denies he went to a public house and boasted about what he had done."

"The early raising of the alarm saved any injuries – the consequences could have been far greater."

Event a success

MORE than 1,000 people took part in a lung cancer awareness event in Cannock. The Government campaign to raise awareness of lung cancer drew interest in Cannock as people visited the Be Clear on Cancer coughing roadshow.

More unseen treasures from Staffordshire Hoard revealed

NEVER-before-seen
artefacts from the Staffordshire Hoard have gone on display to the public.

A total of 226 ancient Anglo-Saxon items, including as yet unseen ones, can now be viewed as part of the Dark Age Discovery exhibition at The Potteries Museum and Art Gallery in Stoke-on-Trent.

Hoard items will be displayed in eight cases, with a further three cases featuring additional Anglo-Saxon artefacts found elsewhere in Staffordshire.

It will also be the first time many of the pieces from the 3,500-strong collection have been fitted together.

As well as a mystery object that has baffled researchers, there is also the hilt from a seax, short sword featuring five separate hoard pieces joined together.

Councillor Mark Meredith, cabinet member for economic development at Stoke-on-Trent City Council, said: "This is simply the biggest and most detailed exhibition of the Staffordshire Hoard yet."

"It is the most ambitious exhibition we have ever staged in terms of its use of technology and number of items on display from this unparalleled treasure."

The hoard has fascinated and enthralled experts and residents alike in equal measure since its discovery, and this is a fantastic and not-to-be-missed opportunity to see the treasure as it has never been seen before.

The new display comes just after it was revealed a research project is underway to piece together why the hoard was buried in a Hammerwich field and what it was used for.

It follows a grant of £276,000 from English Heritage.

Intricacy

The display will also feature eight iPads packed with interactive features including the most detailed images of the Anglo-Saxon treasure which are available so far.

The images, created by stacking high-resolution photographs on top of each other, show the intricacy of the craftsmanship and decoration of sword pommels, helmet fragments and processional crosses in a level of detail not previously seen.

The exhibition runs until September 2013.

The Potteries Museum and Art Gallery is open between 10am and 5pm Monday to Saturday and 2pm to 5pm on Sundays.

EATING OUT

Restaurant's new menu serves up food to die for

The Bridge House hotel and Restaurant, Stone Cross, Penkridge

The beer garden at the Bridge House Hotel and Restaurant

Bridge House, Penkridge
WITH the summer looking as though it is finally upon us, what can be better than having a meal at a pub and a drink out in the sun?

And where better to go than the Bridge House Hotel and Restaurant in Stone Cross, Penkridge?

The Bridge House, on the Wolverhampton Road, has remained popular for passing trade, with market days in particular proving a big draw.

It is popular with revellers travelling to and from the V Festival at nearby Weston Park, while many like to take advantage of its beer garden or sit out at the front on the banks of the canal.

The Bridge House regularly caters for party bookings, and has recently launched a new menu offering a wider choice of starters and main courses than before.

My partner and I were more than just pleasantly surprised by what was on offer. The seating is well laid out, the atmosphere is ideal, the service is second to none and the food is to die for.

Choice

From a choice of starters that also included pan seared scallops and chicken liver pate, I opted for the bacon and black pudding salad while Sharon's choice was the soup of the day, leek and potato.

Mains followed, with the choices ranging from teriyaki beef, tagliatelle, fillet of beef and seafood options. Daily specials are just £7.95 and it was from that board that I chose the tex-mex steak, complete with chilli peppers and salad. Sharon decided on the seabass and was not disappointed with how it tasted and by how much of it there was.

Two for one offers are available at the Bridge House before 6pm, while Thursdays are the nights for traditional fish and chips and a carvery is served on a Sunday. Call 01785 714426.

A £1.3m upgrade to region bus fleet

NATIONAL Express is spending £1.3 million on an overhaul of its West Midlands bus fleet, the largest public transport refurbishment project ever in the UK.

When complete, the fleet will have vehicles with new modern interiors and cleaner engines that are 20 per cent more efficient.

The work will extend the life of the buses by at least a decade and bosses say customers will enjoy cleaner, more comfortable journeys.

Peter Coates, managing director of National Express UK Bus Division, said they were also continuing to invest in new vehicles.

Last year 220 new vehicles including 18 green hybrid buses, were added.

The fuel savings delivered by the refit alone will enable the company to cover the cost of the refurbishment within three years.

The more fuel efficient buses will also help improve air quality in Birmingham, which is a key objective for both Birmingham City Council and transport authority Centro.

Father pledges to continue artist legacy of tragic Mark

Oliver Speight tells BEN BENTLEY why he is dedicating his life to the memory of his TV presenter son Mark

THE feeling of loss, as Mark Speight's father Oliver puts it, is "in perpetuity".

Wolverhampton-born children's television star and artist Mark took his own life in 2008, but, determined to fund a project to continue his work of taking art into communities, Oliver Speight sold his house and now lives in a hotel.

Today, reflecting upon the moment a police officer knocked on his door to break the news of his son's death, Oliver, aged 74, says: "It was his time, as I look back at it now. But the loss you never, ever get over. It's an unrecoverable loss."

"The thing I remember when I was first told was the sense of fun in Mark, because in the wake of his death we had 26,000 emails and 95,000 hits on YouTube, and that told you he was so loved by children and parents."

"And it took Mark's death to understand why I was living and what my function in life was. Because he handed me a baton. He said 'my energy is gone now, you carry on'."

Oliver: "Mark was so loved by children and parents"

Presenter Mark Speight

Mark, who grew up in Tettenhall, was the host of BBC children's art programme S.M.A.R.T. But his world fell apart when his fiancée Natasha Collins, died suddenly after taking cocaine.

Mark, 42, was subsequently arrested, but after being released without charge, he disappeared and was found hanged near Paddington Station in London in January 2008. Two suicide notes were discovered a few days later, describing how he could no longer live without Natasha. Love and affection for Mark was no more apparent than at his funeral at St Michael and All Angels Church in Tettenhall, when hundreds of relatives, friends and colleagues turned out to pay their respects.

It was here, as Oliver read the eulogy in which he described his son as "a Pied Piper who took children on a magical mystery tour of art", that it came to him just how he would pick up his dad's baton.

Tragedy struck again the same year, when Mark's grieving mother Jacqui died at her home in Mill Lane, Tettenhall Wood, aged 62. But despite their devastation, Oliver and the family continued their pledge to the artist. In memory of "the real Mark" he would set up Speight of the Art Foundation, an inspirational project that aims to seek out future artistic skills and talent in children aged between four and 18, and also to engage young people in art as a means of self expression and community development.

Oliver's commitment to the cause is beyond doubt. Selling your house in France to live in a hotel tells you that much.

He has family down the road in Coalport, and says his hotel provides an ideal base from which to travel the country and bring a variety of arts projects to children, many of them disadvantaged.

"I thought, let's continue this artistic and creative journey that Mark had started," says Oliver, who is sure his son would approve of Speight of the Art.

A property businessman by profession, Oliver says: "Speight of the Art has changed my life. It has made me realise that time is of the essence and if I am going to do things I've got to get on with this."

External funding is now vital for the continuation of the work Oliver has started. In September, Speight of the Art will engage in a venture with Wolverhampton Art Gallery, under the banner 'Bringing Mark home'.

Tourism growth to boost economy

TOURISM officers expect the number of visitors to South Staffordshire to increase by 100,000 by 2016, raking in millions of pounds.

With attractions like V Festival and Baggeridge Country Park, the area already draws 1.8 million tourists a year, making about £85m for the local economy.

Now Grant Mitchell, strategic development manager at South Staffordshire Council, has revealed the council is aiming for another 100,000 visitors within the next four years. This could be worth as much as £4.7m to the area.

He said: "Over the past few years we've seen more people holidaying at home and with experts predicting that trend will continue, we're confident of seeing more people visiting our local attractions," he said.

"We're also looking to work with attractions to deliver tailored trips such as the Footsteps of a King Tour, which allows visitors to take in Boscomb House and Moseley Old Hall all as part of one great package."

High energy Madonna is still in Vogue at 53

Good clean fun enjoyed by everyone

Rhys Darby, Birmingham Town Hall
IT WOULD have taken just two words from Rhys to set me off. They would have been spoken by his character Murray – the ineffectual manager in hit comedy Flight of the Conchords – and they would, of course, have been “hand meeting”. It's just something about the way he says them.

He didn't say them, but he didn't need to. His show was a riot from start to finish.

His language was clever and his timing spot-on, but his physical energy too beguiled his near sell-out audience. Whether he was imitating a horse doing dressage, living out the social quagmire of shaking hands or taking a sideways glance at hot-air driers he kept everyone in stitches.

He used mime, sound effects and simple silly humour, happily removed from the more menacing acts of his comedy peers. No one suffered a sense of dread wondering who was going to be picked out. It was good clean fun enjoyed by varying age groups who gave Rhys the deafening applause he deserved.

Sarah Cowen

Madonna, Birmingham NIA
ONLY a few hits were performed, the tickets were eye-wateringly expensive, she kept the audience waiting until 9.45pm and shocked some with her gory and grotesque imagery.

Yet, Madonna's first concert at a near-full arena – her only England date outside London – was a triumph. Star quality and the power of her personality shone through the spectacular MDNA show that ran until just gone 11.30pm.

Those expecting a greatest hits package may have been disappointed as it drew heavily on the pounding dance music of her recent MDNA album.

When hits were performed it was sometimes in radically new forms. Like A Virgin became a sultry slow-burning ballad, while a twist on Open Your Heart featured the percussion and harmonies of Basque musicians Kalakan Trio.

But the 53-year-old superstar did deliver a fantastic Vogue, complete with fashion parade, and a big finale of Like A Prayer and Celebration – hits from 20 years apart. Madonna is still vibrant, infuriating, exciting and knows how to put on a damn good show and this was high energy. Dancers included her 11-year-old son Rocco Ritchie.

Madonna on stage during her MDNA Tour at The NIA

Chemistry a part of Lady A's success

Lady Antebellum, 02 Academy, Birmingham
COUNTRY music remains deeply unfashionable in the UK but the likes of Lady Antebellum and Taylor Swift are challenging that.

Much of the Tennessee trio's success can be attributed to their quality songs and the chemistry between singers Charles Kelley and Hillary Scott.

The mellow tones of Kelley and purity of Scott are complementary and they come closer and closer together in the love songs until on Just A Kiss they looked about to seal the moment – and the lights blacked out. Nice theatrical touch.

Kelley, in jeans and T-shirt, paced the stage like a rocker and Scott, splendid in sparkling sequins, came into her own on American Honey. Third member Dave Haywood impressed on guitar, mandolin and piano.

Fresh from supporting Bruce Springsteen in London, Lady A were playing the last date of their UK tour and seemed genuinely humbled by their rousing reception. Their 90-minute set reached a satisfying conclusion with the inevitable encore of Need You Now.

Ross Perry picks up his award from TV presenter Tommy Walsh

A RUGELEY worker climbed to the top of the ladder when he was crowned Apprentice of the Year at the National Construction Awards.

Ross Perry, aged 23, also beat off competition to win the Scaffolding Year 2 category.

Twelve other nominees were commended for their outstanding efforts in 13 categories including flooring, highways maintenance and essential skills.

The ceremony was held in Birmingham.

Ross said: "Being nominated for an award was great - but to actually be crowned Apprentice of the Year and win my category was a real surprise."

Discover life during the 1940s at Black Country Living Museum

Museum ideally placed to tell tale of Black Country industry

The Black Country Museum holds its annual gathering of cars, bikes and commercial vehicles

Vintage motors will be on show this weekend at the Festival of Black Country Vehicles

BLACK Country Living Museum is uniquely placed to tell the story of the world's first industrial landscape through the everyday lives of the people whose skills shaped the modern world.

A recreated 'living' village lies at the heart of the Museum. More than 50 shops, houses and workshops from around the Black Country have been carefully reconstructed to preserve the character of the region when its manufacturers brought worldwide fame to Black Country towns. Learn first hand what it was like to live, work and shop in the Black Country from the 1800s to 1930s. Experience the authentic sights, sounds, smells and tastes from the past.

Take a trip on the tram to explore the canal-side village, where you can meet and chat to the costumed characters. Explore the underground mine and enjoy the fairground and working demonstrations.

The village shops entice you in with the smells of freshly baked bread, cakes, hard-boiled sweets and traditionally cooked fish and chips. Hear stories about economising and rationing food and how to look after clothes from the generation that just had to make do and mend.

The museum preserves and presents skills and industries with working demonstrations and tours, including chainmaking, coal mining, metal working and glass cutting, the skills that shaped the region to life.

In addition to all of this, the museum has a full programme of activities, events and workshops throughout the year. This Sunday, July

29, sees the Festival of Black Country Vehicles at the Tipton Road venue in Dudley

This annual gathering of cars, motorcycles and commercial vehicles sees more than 100 Black Country made vehicles driving around the attraction.

Historical

The Black Country was a major centre for vehicle manufacturing with cycles, motorcycles, cars, lorries and buses all built in the region.

Visitors can see first hand well-known historical names such as AJS, Bean, Star, Sunbeam and Jensen. This names just a few of the automotive marques that put Black Country manufacturing on the map. Book a day visit online and save 10 per cent at www.bclm.com/bookings

Steam power takes over the museum on consecutive Saturdays August 11 and 18 as volunteers demonstrate steam power, when the colliery steam winder and fan engine turn the pressure on!

Book a day visit online and save 10 per cent at www.bclm.com/bookings

August 18 is also half price family night on pre-purchase tickets, available online or by calling 0121 520 8054.

Enjoy a Saturday night of traditional family entertainment when the Museum opens its doors after hours for half the usual admission price.

The museum is brought to life with musical entertainment, street performers, circus skill games, face painting, balloon animal making, Punch and Judy and much more. Enjoy a pint of real ale and sing along with the pianist in the Bottle and Glass Inn or tuck into the tasty fish and chips – cooked 1930s style.

Pick of the Week

Toby returns on the right side of the law

Toby Stephens is not best known for his comic skills, though there were some unintentionally funny sneers from him when he played the villain in 007 epic Die Another Day 10 years ago. However, he clearly had a great time when he was cast in comedy drama Vexed (Wednesday, BBC2, 9pm) in 2009.

If you missed that first run when it aired a year later, it centred on Jack Armstrong and Kate Bishop, detectives who were completely mismatched. The former was one of the worst private eyes of all time, while the latter tried to do a good job, but kept getting dragged down by Jack.

Now series one actress Lucy Punch has moved on to other projects, for the first of a six-part series, Jack is teamed with new partner Georgina Dixon (Miranda Raison). She's an ambitious officer who has been promoted to detective inspector and has no reservations about expressing her disdain for Jack's sloppy approach to crime-solving.

Naturally the duo have to put aside their differences when they investigate the strange death of an egocentric car salesman. Stephens loved making the first series, not least because it gave him a rare chance to do comedy on TV instead of the dramatic roles he was known for. "It was kind of like having a vacation for me," he remarked at the time. It helped that his character was such a bumbling detective instead of a shrewd villain hell bent on world domination. "I just had to turn up every day and have fun," he smiles.

As any theatre luvvie will tell you, Toby is the son of acclaimed actors Robert Stephens and Maggie Smith. So, partly because of genetics and partly through seeing a lot of theatre when he was young, it was inevitable he would start treading the boards. He made his film debut 20 years ago in Tilda Swinton movie Orlando, and impressed many with TV hit The Camomile Lawn. Roles in a film version of Twelfth Night and Space Cowboys (in which he played a younger version of director/star Clint Eastwood) kept the wolf from the door, but it was his turn as egomaniacal Gustav Graves in Die Another Day that could have changed his life forever.

It didn't hurt that Pierce Brosnan's final 007 epic made millions at the box office and put Stephens on the map of many Hollywood casting agents who may have been indifferent to his earlier work. However, given the choice between spending days and maybe months in LA waiting for the phone to ring, and then playing generic villains in assorted epics, or working on lower paid theatre/TV work, he chose the latter. "Once you've done a villain, that's all you end up doing," he remarked. You can see his point.

Charming, good looking and most of all British, he ticks all the boxes for any uninspired Tinseltown director looking for the next antagonist for their blockbuster. Jack Armstrong may spend a lot of time vexed about his work, but his real life alter ego could hold a masterclass in tickling ribs, as this first episode proves.

Toby Stephens heads the cast of Vexed, Wednesday, BBC2, 9pm

Best of the Rest

MONDAY

We Love the Monkees

ITV1, 9pm

Hey, hey, they were the Monkees – the manufactured boy band who turned out to be minds of their own, and whose hits have outlasted their TV show by more than 40 years. If the tributes to Davy Jones, who died in February, weren't enough to convince you that the group were more than just the Prefab Four, then perhaps this documentary will finally make you a believer. It tells the story of how Jones, Mickey Dolenz, Peter Tork and Mike Nesmith were brought together by US TV producers who wanted to create their own version of the Beatles to star in a sitcom.

Olympics Tonight

BBC1, 10.40pm

Gabby Logan is joined by guests to present a look back at the highlights on day three in London, as well as live coverage of the late-night events, which are beach volleyball, basketball and volleyball. The Aquatics Centre took centre stage once again, with Tom Daley and Peter Waterfield aiming for diving gold in the 10m platform final. Waterfield was looking to go one better than the silver he won in this event eight years ago in Athens alongside Leon Taylor, and 18-year-old Daley was aiming to win his first Olympic medal.

TUESDAY

Olympics 2012

BBC1, 7pm

Gary Lineker presides over the fourth evening's events in London, with the main focus of attention being on the Aquatics Centre, where four finals and three semi-finals take place. Britain's big medal hope in the pool tonight is Hannah Milley, providing she managed to qualify for the 200m individual medley final, having failed to do so four years ago. Elsewhere, updates and reaction come from Wembley Stadium, where the Great Britain women's football team played their final Group E match against a Brazil side likely to be spearheaded by one of the finest female players of all time in Marta.

Love Your Garden

ITV1, 8pm

Bluebell Wood Children's Hospice in South Yorkshire is devoted to the support of children with shortened life expectancy. One key thing missing from the Hospice was a place where families left behind could reflect on the life which had passed on. Alan Titchmarsh was keen to put that right, and plans to create a garden of peace and tranquillity. Alas, it's not long before the weather has thrown a spanner in the works. Also this week, David Donnelly investigates natural seating, and Frances Tophill checks out the stunning new wave perennial planting at Wisley.

WEDNESDAY

24 Hours in A&amp;E

Channel 4, 9pm

This week's show features three-month-old Jaziah, the youngest patient ever featured on the series. He has been rushed in with breathing difficulties. Severely underweight and with an enlarged liver, consultant

Jacqui needs to work fast to give him a chance of survival. We also meet Kerry, the mother of 18-month-old Charlie. She is awaiting urine test results which may explain why he's been feeling unwell for five days.

THURSDAY

Olympics 2012

BBC1, 4pm

Sue Barker and Jake Humphrey present as the track cycling competition begins at the London Velodrome, with Team GB hopeful of producing more fine displays after some outstanding cycling performances in recent years.

Providing they negotiate their way through the earlier heats, Victoria Pendleton and Jess Varnish will be going for gold in the women's team sprint event. Pendleton has already tasted Olympic glory when she won the individual sprint discipline four years ago in Beijing and Varnish has proved herself to be a more than capable partner. Also taking place in this session are the early stages of the men's team sprint and team pursuit, with triple gold medalist in Beijing, Chris Hoy, among those set to be in action.

Olympics Tonight, Monday, BBC1, 10.40pm

The Briefs

ITV1, 9pm

What a load of pants! Well, not really. In fact, despite its suggestive title, this new series has absolutely nothing to do with underwear. Instead, it's a two-part documentary that goes behind the scenes at Manchester law firm Tuckers. It's been in operation since 1980, and specialises in criminal defence work. The company prides itself on its ability to take on a wide range of cases and clients – and this first episode certainly reflects that. Among the people walking through the doors is a 63-year-old woman who's been accused of dealing drugs, and a man about to stand trial for attempting to blackmail Coleen Rooney, wife of England and Manchester United footballer Wayne. Nicholas Jones narrates this extraordinary and eye-opening programme.

FRIDAY

Soham: A Parents' Tale

ITV1, 9pm

It's now 10 years since the murders of Holly Wells and Jessica Chapman, but many people still can't hear the name of girls' home town of Soham without recalling the poignant photo of the 10-year-old friends in matching football shirts. Their deaths and the subsequent trial and conviction of Ian Huntley caused a national outrage, but this sensitive documentary focuses on the experiences of Holly Wells' family, asking how they survived what must surely be every parent's worst nightmare. Her father Kevin and mother Holly discuss the terrible days spent waiting for news of their daughter, and how they have rebuilt their family.

Your essential guide to the world of motoring compiled by Motoring Editor Sharon Walters

New arrival aims to make a big impact on the sector

PLEASE do drive some of our opposition, was the invitation at the UK launch of the latest Volvo – the V40.

By Sharon Walters

And there alongside rows of gleaming new V40s waiting to be tested were others in the hotly contested C segment in the UK. Now that takes some bottle and a lot of confidence in your product. The company must be absolutely sure motoring journals will be impressed or be so stunned they are beaten into submission.

In my humble opinion, Volvo got it just right and we were impressed, or at least I was.

Volvo is putting a lot into its attack on the segment where the top five – Ford Focus, VW Golf, Vauxhall Astra, Audi A3 and BMW 1 Series – account for 66 per cent of total sales.

Duncan Forrester, Volvo's head of public affairs, says the marque only has to take five per cent of these customers to sell 10,000 units a year. And he believes it will take more.

Safety

This all-new car comes with new and improved features from the larger family members and includes City Safety as standard, collision warning and pedestrian detection on the safety front along with the world's first pedestrian airbag fitted as standard, which is the next step towards the manufacturer's target that no-one should be killed or injured in a new Volvo by 2020.

There are three different diesel engines, and three petrol engines. They include a 1.6 diesel, which gives a class-leading CO2 figure of 94g/km (equivalent to 78.5mpg on the combined cycle), a sporty 177hp 2.0-litre five-cylinder diesel, and the high performance T5 petrol, good for 254hp.

All engine and gearbox versions have start/stop technology, to boost economy and reduce emissions. The hatchback will be available in ES, SE and SE LUX trim with Blue-tooth fitted as standard across the range.

Company car users will benefit from strong benefit in kind (BIK) figures, with the V40 D2 at £43 and £85 for 20 per cent and 40 per cent tax payers respectively. The V40 D2 offers the best BIK figures of all the premium five-door hatchbacks, beating the BMW 116d ED (£45 and £90) and the Audi A3 1.6 TDI (£48 and £97).

The entry level ES comes with a large number of features as standard, including Volvo's innovative City Safety technology; the world's first pedestrian airbag; Bluetooth with music streaming; high performance audio with 5in colour display screen; Electronic Climate Control; 16in Matres alloy wheels; Dynamic Stability and Traction Control; power windows; leather steering wheel and gearknob; and textile floor mats.

Inside it is stylish and well laid out with plenty of driver and passenger space and the boot isn't bad – let's face it Volvos have never had the best capacity or usability but this is OK.

Outside it is lean, low and wide and is certainly elegant. It is particularly eye-catching from the back and at the front has good, heavy creases, attractive headlamps and tidy grille.

The signs are already good from the experts.

"We believe the car will be a success," said Andrew Mee, senior managing pricing risk, Lex Autolease. "The V40 is an attractive model which provides an improved driving experience over any previous Volvo."

Despite this summer's weather, Here at Chase we've got some...

Sparkling line-up to celebrate the jubilee

By John Griffiths

THE Queen's Diamond Jubilee has been the big news and cause for celebrations throughout the country this summer.

And there was extra cause to mark Her Majesty's reign among workers at Land Rover's Solihull factory, who have been supplying vehicles to the Royal Family for almost all of those 60 glorious years.

Some of these formed part of a special exhibition at the Motor Heritage Centre at Gaydon, Warwickshire, to mark the jubilee – and were later brought out for fortunate members of the press to drive.

I tried a classic 1995 long wheelbase Range Rover, which bore no special markings because it was the private transport of the late Queen Mother. Its extra eight inches of wheelbase over the standard model was devoted to extra legroom in the rear, and it came with running boards acting as steps either side, as well as the ability to lower its air suspension to make getting in and out easier (now a standard feature).

Expert

I took it around the museum's grounds in the chauffeur's position, as well as trying out the rear seats with a Land Rover expert at the controls.

One of the oldest vehicles in display was a 1954 Series 1 Land Rover modified by the company's special vehicle operations team. The body had an open-topped rear platform, with glass on three sides and opulent leather seating, to be used on state occasions so that the British people could get a good look (to save nothing of a wave) from their Queen.

It was one of the vehicles which she and Prince Philip took with them on a six-month Commonwealth tour after the Coronation.

Also among the collection was a 1983 Land Rover 110 station wagon, one of the first long-wheelbase models, which was the Queen's personal transport at Sandringham and Balmoral for 18 years before she gave it to the Heritage Motor Centre and took delivery of a new model.

Visitors to the exhibition also saw a 1958 Series II Land Rover, a Vanden Plas Princess limousine and the Queen's own 1971 Rover saloon.

The plush leather interior of the 1958 state ceremonial Land Rover. Note the umbrellas, undoubtedly necessary for an open-top royal vehicle

The Alfa Romeo MiTo is now available with the award-winning 85hp Twin-Air engine

Award-winning engine found in Alfa's new sporty supermini

ALFA Romeo's sporty supermini, the Alfa MiTo, is now available with the multi-award winning 85hp TwinAir engine – an 875cc twin-cylinder turbo powerplant with electro-hydraulic valve control technology that delivers outstanding fuel economy with sub-100g/km CO2 emissions.

The introduction of the two-cylinder TwinAir engine into the Alfa MiTo range reinforces the MiTo's image as a hi-tech, sporty, compact car offering maximum driving pleasure whilst exceeding driver expectations.

With a CO2 output of just 98g/km and official combined cycle fuel economy of 67.3mpg, the Alfa MiTo TwinAir is the cleanest and most economical model in its class. Business and retail customers can enjoy impressive financial benefits including zero road tax, the lowest 10 per cent BIK rate, London congestion charge exemption and Group 9 insurance rating.

The 85hp TwinAir Turbo is the first of a series of two-cylinder engines developed by Fiat Powertrain.

Complementing the introduction of the new powerplant, the MiTo TwinAir range is available in a new metallic body colour – Ametista Black with a purple hue.

Damien Dally, head of brand, Alfa Romeo UK says: "The Alfa MiTo TwinAir is an intelligent response to modern driving requirements – premium styling, a sporty and engaging driving experience, combined with outstanding ecological and financial benefits. It's the last word in automotive engineering in terms of technology, performance and environmental consideration."

New Toyota sports car is set to fill 'fun factor gap'

SHROPSHIRE'S Toyota dealership describes the new GT86 as the 'hero' car they have long awaited.

Carl Jenks, brand manager of William A. Lewis Toyota, says orders have been taken for the GT86 and he expects the 'hero' car to be a top seller in the coming weeks and months.

"The GT86 fills the 'fun factor gap' and is Toyota's first sports car since the GT 2000 Corolla and A86 which was an iconic sports car," said Carl.

"Toyota has gone back to its heritage with this sports car that has been given the tag line 'The Real Deal.' "The GT86 has a two-litre Boxer engine capable of 140mph and 0-62 in 7.6 seconds in manual or automatic.

Bargain

"And at £24,995 on the road, the GT86 really is a bargain which customers are already confirming."

He added that the GT86 – which carries a five-year Toyota warranty – will be launched at William A. Lewis Toyota dealerships in Telford and Shrewsbury this month.

Stubborn stand to halt Penk maximum

Penkridge 209-8, Coleshill 160-9, Draw
PENKRIDGE firsts were left frustrated as they narrowly missed maximum points against Coleshill.

Coleshill appeared to be at Penkridge's mercy when they slumped to 108-9 in response to 209-8. But the last-wicket pair battled out for the losing draw.

After losing the toss, Penkridge made a poor start with both openers back in the pavilion with just 12 on the board. The innings was rebuilt with an excellent third-wicket partnership between Rana Hassan and Chad Clarke with the latter being unluckily dismissed for a fluent 31.

From then on, wickets fell at regular intervals. But Hassan held the innings together with a superb 124 not out as Penkridge closed on 209-8.

In reply, Coleshill lost early wickets and never looked liked overhauling Penkridge's total. That was mainly due to some good quality bowling by Roger Western (3-46), Shafiq Ahmed (3-36) and Ross Shelton (2-35).

A stubborn last-wicket partnership of 52 denied Penkridge the victory points as Coleshill finished on 160-9.

■ The seconds' match with Penkridge was abandoned.

West Bromwich Dartmouth 115, Penkridge 109.

WB Dartmouth won by six runs
Penkridge thirds went down to their second defeat of the season in a low scoring affair at West Bromwich Dartmouth.

After asking the home side to bat, Penkridge made good progress. Zahoor Iqbal (4-29) and Usman Butt (3-42) bowled particularly well and enabled Penkridge to dismiss their opponents for just 115.

Delvin King top-scored for Dartmouth with 24 while Amit John contributed 20.

However, Penkridge never really got going when it was their turn to bat.

No batsman could score above 20 and with wickets falling at regular intervals they fell an agonising six runs short of their target.

They still had three wickets in hand when reaching the 100 mark, but it was Dartmouth who were left to celebrate.

King added three wickets to his good work with the bat while Aaron Patel grabbed 3-21.

New venue is home from home for Egan

Dave Egan – new bout

CANNOCK'S Dave Egan believes his next fight will be like a home from home after landing a spot on a bill to take place at a new venue in Birmingham.

The 29-year-old is on the card on Saturday September 8 at the HMV Institute – formerly Digbeth Civic Hall – and will be promoted by Clifton Mitchell.

Egan's manager Jon Pegg, who trains him at his gym in Birmingham, is match-maker for the show and is looking for a decent test for his fighter.

The former Chasetown footballer turned pro with a points win over

by Craig Birch

Matt Seawright in May, before shutting out Danny Dontchev the same way in June.

But Egan was less than pleased that his opponents had come to survive and spoil, negating his own boxing skills as they laboured to the finish. And the popular welterweight, who sold more than 200 tickets for his last fight, wants a game adversary this time who will give as good as he gets.

He said: "It's like a home show for me, all of the lads from our gym are boxing on the bill and I am looking forward to it. Hopefully, I will get someone who wants to come and have a scrap and it will make it a bit more exciting for people.

"People will start to get bored if I am not in exciting fights."

Egan insists he's happy to roll with the punches and take the risks with a live opponent, including having his "chin tested".

The former Walsall Wood ABC amateur and ABA Novice Midlands champion declared it's pointless to take it easy.

He said: "No-one has seen what I can do yet, but I think I am going to prove myself as a boxer who can dig a bit. I haven't been caught yet, either, so it's possible I could take a big shot without a headguard on and crumble.

"I want to have my chin tested, in the fights to come, with these bangers who can punch hard.

"When they put one on me and I am still standing there and coming on strong, it would give me confidence.

"That's when I would need to grit my teeth and get through it and that's how I would learn.

"It's pointless me doing it for a bit of a laugh."

Brilliance secures Chantry Cup win

CANNOCK & RUGELEY took a fine win in the final of the Chantry Cup, beating hosts Lichfield by four wickets.

On a miserable cold, damp evening Cannock & Rugeley produced a brilliant bowling and fielding display to restrict Lichfield to 113-9 off their 20 overs.

The home side's captain Pete Woodfield top-scored with 27.

Bowling honours were shared between the Lawley brothers with Greg returning the outstanding figures of 4-15, Adam taking 2-28 and James 2-26.

Although wicket-less, Martin Weston conceded only 21 runs off his five overs. Cannock & Rugeley began aggressively but were tottering on 35-3.

A partnership then developed between 'Spook' Farley and Adam Lawley that turned the game on its head.

They hit the ball to all corners of the ground, adding 50 in five overs, before Farley fell for 23.

James Lawley was then run out after a mix-up with brother Adam, but C&R got home with three overs and four wickets to spare.

Difference of two runs is decider

Cannock & Rugeley 124-9, Hawkins 122. C&R won by two runs

CANNOCK & RUGELEY topped high-flying Hawkins Sports in a thrilling Staffs Clubs championship game.

In a match reduced to 33 overs Cannock & Rugeley suffered a mini-collapse before Adam Lawley went up a gear, making 51 at almost a run a ball.

Ryan Ponder chipped in with 15 to help Cannock & Rugeley to 124-9 off their allocated overs. Qamar Abbas (3-34) and Maroof Azam (4-19) were Hawkins' successful bowlers.

Defending a total that seemed inadequate, Cannock & Rugeley bowled and fielded magnificently.

Then Ejaz Nawaz (31 not out) and Maroof Azam (20) took Hawkins to the brink of victory, before James Taylor Jnr was introduced into the attack and took the final three wickets to give Cannock & Rugeley victory by two runs.

JAMES Fair's Olympic auditions are over. The London 2012 curtain call is coming. Turn on the spotlight and cameras; the Cannock hockey goalkeeper is ready for his close-up.

The 30-year-old has been taking acting lessons with the squad as part of their Olympic preparations – ready to sweep the boards in London.

England are fourth in the world behind Australia, Germany and the Netherlands with a serious chance of ending Team GB men's 24-year medal drought.

Now, as the combined nations, they will shun the West End for East End dominance in Stratford under innovative coach Jason Lee.

Fair admits his acting is unlikely to land him an Oscar but still may give Team GB that little piece of gold they crave.

"We had to throw around an imaginary orange – which was new," said Fair, with a raise of the eyebrows. "We got given a load of homework, but there was no Hamlet."

"It was about visualisation and there was a bit of meditation and positive imagery. If we can relate that to our game then we can be quite good at it."

Confidence

"It shows that, while you might have the mind-set you can win, maybe the body language isn't right and how the opposition can pick that up."

"It shows that if you have the external confidence, you can do well. Sometimes the opposition, if they have won quite a bit, go out there with their chests puffed out. We need to do that."

"Jason is good at that, trying to find the things which could help the extra per cent."

"We also went to South Africa training earlier this year and did a lot of work with the kids in the townships. It was the stuff which we don't normally do.

"You learn it's not necessary about winning and losing on the pitch."

The team have also been warned over their Twitter use with the players – from both men and women's teams – likely to come under increased scrutiny.

Their Facebook and Twitter accounts have been studied – leading to a mock-up tabloid front page highlighting what could happen over the next few weeks.

They know that should they claim gold – or even a medal – hockey as a sport will be pushed into the mainstream.

It would be a grand stage on which Fair would be happy to stride after being a non-playing reserve to Scotland's Alistair McGregor in Beijing four years ago.

He watched from the sidelines as Team GB finished fifth – their best result since winning gold in Seoul in 1988.

A year later he helped England to European Championships glory – defeating Germany 5-3 – and now he has beaten Reading's Nick Brothers and Beeston's George Pinner to the No.1 shirt.

And Fair – who has 87 England appearances under his belt plus 40 GB caps – insists their London 2012 dreams have been four years in the making.

"The squad has been together from the last cycle; we've got some younger boys but we've been able to integrate the Scottish and Northern Ireland boys," said the Tranmere Rovers fan, who helped Cannock to fourth in the Premier Division last season.

"We haven't just turned up in 2012 to see what happens."

James Fair will be the last line of defence in Team GB's bid for men's hockey gold

Dominant Chishti hits ton in draw

Staffordshire 278-9 dec and 383-8 dec, Norfolk 330-4 dec and 101-1. Draw

STAFFORDSHIRE'S middle-order batsmen put on a sterling performance to ensure they earned a well-deserved draw from their three-day Minor Counties Championship fixture against Norfolk at Manor Park, Norwich.

Going into the final day Staffs had a slender lead of 101 with just five second-innings wickets remaining and the home side looking to drive home their advantage on the third-day wicket, writes Allan Smith.

However, the home side's hopes of forcing the win began to disappear in the glorious sunshine as, on a wicket which had improved each day, Staffs' overnight pairing of Atiq Chishti and captain Paul Goodwin remained defiant against the home attack.

Resuming on 43, Chishti quickly reached his half-century and the pair began to dominate the home bowlers. Gradually they extended Staffordshire's advantage with Goodwin also reaching the half-century milestone while at the other end 30-year-old Chishti confidently recorded a first-ever century for the county.

Prospect

The pair remained together throughout the 140-minute pre-lunch session to increase Staffs' hopes of avoiding defeat. With no realistic prospect of Staffs being able to bowl out Norfolk on what was now a superb batting track, they put the game beyond their hosts by batting on.

The introduction of the new ball brought about a breakthrough as Michael Eccles found the edge of Goodwin's bat and wicket-keeper Stephen Gray completed the catch to dismiss the Staffs skipper for an excellent 58. The sixth-wicket partnership between Chishti and Goodwin of 147 had almost ensured Staffs safety but a quickfire seventh-wicket stand of 61 between Chishti and Imran Arif extended their lead to 299.

Arif struck a run-a-ball 41 while Chishti continued to revel in the sun and was finally caught on the mid-wicket boundary for a match-saving 158 which included three sixes and 19 boundaries.

Staffs declared and Norfolk batted out to 101-1.

Players and supporters in tribute to fan

Hednesford Town 1 Bedworth Utd 1

AS HEDNESFORD TOWN and Bedworth United drew at Keys Park, the minds of supporters and players alike turned to 23-year-old supporter Luke Porter, killed in a car accident on nearby Cannock Chase.

A minute's applause rang out in memory of a fan who was regularly seen at Keys Park for many years.

More than 40 of his close friends and family spent almost the entire game chanting his name.

In this atmosphere a football match was played with both sets of teams struggling to fall into any rhythm in the hazy summer sun.

shine. The Pitmen, starting with Sean O'Connor and Michael Lennon in attack, ably supported by major recent signing Nathan Woolfe, started very encouragingly.

Captain Dave MacPherson fired over inside the first five minutes and Hednesford opened the scoring when right-back John Disney curled a perfectly judged shot over the goalkeeper after O'Connor had foraged well in the penalty area on 10 minutes.

Bedworth responded well to going behind and should have equalised when David Kolodynski ran through a porous Pitmen defence but lobbed the ball wide and Melvyn Gourlay shot too high.

Woolfe's pace and first touch continued to impress for Hednesford and the former Northwich Victoria player tested Andrew Kemp on 43 minutes.

The second half conformed to the usual disjointed nature of a pre-season friendly, interrupted with numerous substitutions, but positives for the home side was the continued excellence and quality of delivery by Elliott Durrell and the efforts of Lennon.

The worry around the defence of The Pitmen was proved again on 66 minutes however, as a lack of concentration led to Tyrone Amori wrongfooting Dan Crane as he sidefooted past the goalkeeper.

Disney swept a free-kick into the chest of the Bedworth goalkeeper before Amori forced Crane into a smart save with 12 minutes to go.

A superb driven cross by Durrell found substitute Neil Harvey but the striker's connection let him down as he headed wide and Durrell hit a shot straight at the goalkeeper.

Following a Pitmen corner Lennon found the ball at his feet in the six yard box but made a poor connection and screwed his shot wide before Ben Bailey headed over from a corner with the last kick off the match.

Hednesford: Crane, Disney, Campion, Raglan, Bailey, Melbourne, Osborne, MacPherson, O'Connor, Lennon, Woolfe. Substitutes: Durrell, Clarke, Harvey, Hendrie, Dunleavy, Hoffmann, Crookes.

Bedworth United: Kemp, Dean, Wesley, Gourlay, Ramsay-Dixon, Belcher, Spencer, Byrne, Piggon, Kolodynski, Keen. Substitutes: Haines, Roper, Amori (66), Bannister, Donaldson, Greenway, Recci.

Attendance: 350.

Fightback sees game swing to home side

Heath Hayes 3

Rushall Olympic 2

HEATH HAYES twice battled back from behind to take victory against a much-changed Rushall Olympic.

The visitors made no fewer than nine changes to their weekend starting line-up to give trialists and other squad members a run out.

However, despite twice taking the lead against the never-say-die hosts, they eventually succumbed 3-2.

The visitors enjoyed a good start when after only seven minutes a useful run by Ahmed Obeng was halted in its tracks by a solid defensive challenge that yielded a flag kick. As Martyn Naylor delivered the corner the danger was only half-cleared and Lei Brown quickly latched on to the loose ball and drilled it into the net from just inside the box.

Three minutes after taking the initiative Rushall were back on the offensive through Naylor, whose powerful 22-yard strike almost crept through the grasp of the Heath Hayes keeper.

Debutant

Just seven minutes after falling behind, Hayes levelled when skipper Mitchell Tolley played a standard back-pass to debutant keeper Tom Burns. However, the 16-year-old fluffed his lines and miscued an attempted clearance only as far as Dave Waple who directed a looping header over the stranded keeper.

Two minutes into the second half the visitors were first to threaten when Naylor had a vicious 25-yard effort somehow hooked off the goal-line.

On 51 minutes Rushall trialist Alex Roofs prompted a big penalty appeal as he appeared to be hauled down and moments later the striker had an effort smothered by the Hayes keeper.

Rushall regained the lead in the 53rd minute when Brown found plenty of space and slotted his second goal.

And on 65 minutes Hayes levelled. Trialist substitute Steve Palmer allowed Heath Hayes to work the ball forward to the unmarked Waple who rifled his finish across the keeper and into the bottom left corner.

With just five minutes remaining the hosts claimed a deserved winner when poor defending saw an unchallenged strike from outside the box cannoned off the underside of the crossbar. The ball ran loose and Carl Wallace scored.

It's a defeat, but there are positives for boss

MANAGER Craig Harris got another good pre-season look at his Chasetown squad who gave a confident performance in defeat to Southern Premier side Redditch United.

Harris named seven of the starting XI from the previous game against Crewe Alexandra, writes Paul Mullins.

The consistency of personnel from the opening friendly insured that The Scholars made a positive start to the match, passing the ball quickly and accurately to put their higher league opposition under test.

There were plenty of positives in the opening 45 minutes, with the best chance falling to Monday's goalscorer Chris Russell.

Perhaps he should have taken a shot himself, instead teeing up Gary Hay, who fired just over the bar from 12 yards.

The hosts had a chance disallowed for offside, but keeper Ryan Price was otherwise rarely troubled, with the centre-back pairing of Richard Teesdale and Jon Richardson defending a high line.

Confidence

Just before the break, left-back Jon Patrick advanced into the penalty after a neat one-two and only the lack of a sweet contact prevented the former Stafford Rangers man adding to his midweek goal after a run out for Chasetown reserves.

Goalkeeper Lee Evans and Jonathan Gould entered the action at half-time, a huge vote of confidence for Gould after his impressive display against Crewe on the previous Monday.

But Redditch took the

lead with a goal that will have disappointed The Scholars management.

Matt Johnson sold Lee Evans short with a back-pass and a Redditch striker closed in on the player as he tried to clear, blocking his effort and having the easiest of chances to slot home.

The Scholars continued to create plenty of chances, however. Andy Westwood curled an effort wide of the post before Matt Jukes mistimed a header from a Mark Branch cross, putting it wide when perhaps he should have hit the target.

Tom Worthington, who had netted a brace in midweek for the Reserves at Heath Hayes, forced a save from the Redditch No.1 as Harris' men pushed for an equaliser which they would have fully deserved.

Chasetown: Price (Evans), Johnson, Patrick (Branch), Bate (Maquire), Richardson (Slater), Teesdale (Parsons), Westwood (Lyett), Hands, Russell (Worthington), Hay (Jukes), Wright (Gould).

Resilient Cannock come back to triumph

Cannock (24pts) 133-6, Old Elizabethans (2pts) 115.
Cannock won by 18 runs

CANNOCK bounced back from last week's poor performance with a display of character and determination at home to Old Elizabethans.

Batting first on a very unpredictable wicket, they made just 133-6 off their 55 overs in this Birmingham League Division Two game. Richie Hewitt (22) and Will Fleet (13) put on 33 for the first wicket before Sean Collings (51 not out) and Andrew Lefeaver (18) helped the score on.

Cannock's bowlers gave them the start they needed and left the visitors struggling at 456.

Eddie Fleet (5-26), Andy Hawkins (3-35) and a wicket each for Matt Robinson and Jack Twigger – who also held three catches – saw them clinch a tight but well-deserved victory by 18 runs. Whitmore Reans 84, Cannock 85-8. Cannock won by two wickets

Cannock thirds took a precarious away victory at Staffs Clubs Division Three leaders Whitmore Reans to close the gap between the sides to just three points.

After winning the toss the decision to bat first was an easy one with the pitch and outfield still struggling to recover from the season's rain despite the much-welcome sunshine.

Yet again Cannock's opening bowlers got them off to a good start with Ant Wood taking 4-35 and Tom Bull 1-7.

When the dangerous Zeeshan Qaisar was run out for 22 it looked as if Cannock were set to restrict the hosts to a low total.

Further wickets fell to Matt Bull (1-14) and Alex Beaman (1-14) before Ollie Harris (2-12) wrapped up the innings and Whitmore Reans closed on 84 all out. Cannock had 63 overs to reach their target.

The loss of Dave Chapman for nine and the run out of Andy Twigger for a duck saw Cannock restricted to 14-2 but a stand of 32 between Ian Slym (13) and Wood (22) saw Cannock close in.

There was a twist as four wickets fell for just 10 runs to give Whitmore Reans a glimmer of hope. But Ryan Peach (eight) and Tom Bull (15) helped Cannock regain control and when Bull was eighth man out the scores were already level.

Cannock soon reached their target to cap an excellent display and complete the season double over the opponents.

Jewel of a goal after lacklustre start

A GAME that struggled to get going at times ended all-square with a candidate for "goal of the season" before the campaign has properly begun.

Centre-back Chris Slater advanced through the Studley half, beat a couple of men on the way, slalommed into the penalty area and unleashed a fierce drive that left the visiting keeper rooted to the spot.

It was a strike that truly begged the question why Slater does not score more often, writes Paul Mullins.

Incredibly, after conceding a soft defensive goal at Redditch on Saturday, lightning struck again in the 77th minute. The Scholars were guilty of some casual defending, resulting in Studley walking the ball into an empty net.

Chasetown 1 Studley 1

Manager Craig Harris will want that type of goal out of the system now rather than when the real football begins in less than a month.

The first half struggled to reach any fluidity, hardly surprising in the heat.

Chasetown striker Matt Jukes hit the post while Mark Branch, in a more advanced left midfield role, fired over the bar after Jukes teed him up.

Jukes was again unlucky just before the break not to convert a peach of a pass from Branch, but Jukes was stretching and unable to divert the ball goalwards.

It wasn't going to be Matt Jukes' night, as, five minutes after the break, Billy Russell rolled the ball beyond the Studley keeper but Jukes was thwarted on the line.

Andy Westwood impressed in an attacking role, seeing one shot seemingly destined for the back of the net blocked by a Studley head. Then Westwood was blocked by a tackle after substitutes Gary Hay and Danny Smith linked up neatly.

Another Scholars substitute, Dave Bate continued to show his pre-season form, demonstrating some lovely skill inside the penalty area to elude the visiting centre-back. Studley led with their lucky goal in the 77th minute, before Chase substitute Jono Gould forced the keeper into a save at the other end. Eight minutes from time, Slater was the match-saver with a sublime touch.

Chasetown: Evans, Maguire, Patrick (Johnson, HT), Slater, Parsons (Teesdale, 63), Westwood, Clarke-O'Connell, Lycett (Bate, HT), Russell (Smith, 60), Jukes (Hay, 60), Branch (Gould, 78).

Handball star Ryan step nearer to dream

CANNOCK handball star Ryan Goodwin is a step nearer to his Olympic dream.

The 18-year-old has his sights set on making the Great Britain team for the 2016 Games in Rio.

And Goodwin, the England under-18 captain, has now been named on the British Olympic Association's development programme.

There are 130 athletes and 56 coaches from 44 sport disciplines who will participate in the scheme during the London 2012 Olympic Games.

The programme will give young and talented British athletes and coaches a unique opportunity to experience the Olympic Games environment at first hand this summer.

It aims to prepare those taking part for the Sochi 2014 Winter Games or the Rio 2016 Olympics.

All athletes and coaches will visit Team GB's preparation camp at Loughborough University.

The participants will then travel to London where they will visit the Olympic Village, watch two Olympic competition sessions and experience the atmosphere at Team GB House in Westfield Stratford City.

BLACK AND WHITE AND READY FOR OFF

Hednesford Town

HEDNESFORD TOWN are to go back to their celebrated colours of black and white.

The Pitmen played in white all season, but Saturday's kit launch at Keys Park will see a return to their more familiar colour scheme.

Hednesford will unveil the new home kit at the pre-season fixture against local rivals Tamworth.

After that, they will begin to focus on their league opener at home to Frickley Athletic on Saturday, August 18.

The kit, designed by Joma, will be on sale at the club shop and also available to order from www.hednesfordtownfc.com.

Club secretary Terry McMahon expressed how impressed he was with the new shirt.

"We are once again very happy with the design of the new kit and are confident our supporters will be impressed with the change back to the more traditional colours of white shirts, black shorts and white socks," he said.

Calendar

"The new design of the strip now allows us to offer a size range from toddler up to 3XL."

Saturday's game at Keys Park is the biggest of a pre-season calendar which has also seen Rob Smith's side take on Mansfield Town, Wulfrunians, Heath Hayes and Bedworth United.

Meanwhile, a squad made up of youth players and first teamer Michael Lennon went down 5-2 against Walsall Wood on Tuesday night with Lennon and Amani Allen scoring the goals.

The Keys Park outfit will face Sutton Coldfield at home next Tuesday (7.45pm) before welcoming Vauxhall Motors at Keys Park on Saturday, August 4.

Hednesford then travel to Newtown in Wales to play ex-manager Bernard McNally's Welsh Premier League outfit on Saturday, August 11 – their final fixture as the real action begins in the Evo-Stik Northern Premier Division the following week.

Local teachers for Local schools from a local teaching agency

Since 2005 Lichfield has been home to ABC Teachers, a supply teaching agency that supplies teachers and teaching staff to local schools, nurseries, Pupil Referral Units and SEN Services across Staffordshire and the West Midlands. 'Nearly all schools will rely on the support of a supply teacher to varying degrees' states Jason Berry who looks after secondary schools in Staffordshire. 'Most local schools had been forced to rely on agencies based in Birmingham or even further afield with little or no knowledge of the local areas'.

'Our aim is simple; we want to work with all of the local supply teachers and all of the local schools. Placing local teachers in local schools means that teachers can get to schools quicker in an emergency. We have found that they also tend to 'fit in' better because of their knowledge of the catchment area'.

ABC Teachers are certainly heading in the right direction. We have over 1000 registered teachers within 15 miles of our Lichfield office and a client base that includes almost all of the Staffordshire secondary schools south of Stafford. I think you would have to agree that ABC Teachers is well and truly on the Staffordshire map.

Agency Workers Regulations 2010

October 2011 saw the introduction of the Agency Workers Regulations. The new regulations mean that anyone teaching for more than 12 weeks in a school will be entitled to equal treatment. This is in terms of the same basic working and employment conditions as they would have been entitled to, had they been recruited directly by the school to do the same job.

For teachers, teaching assistants and cover supervisors working for ABC Teachers, this means that after 12 weeks of working in the same school, doing the same job, they will be entitled to be paid to scale. This is a huge benefit to our staff that not all agencies are offering.

Jo Betteley, Manager for ABC Teachers states 'We know that our teachers, teaching assistants and cover supervisors work hard for us and it only stands to reason that they should be paid correctly for the work they are doing.'

ABC Teachers have wholeheartedly embraced the new regulations and we are doing everything possible to ensure that as many people as possible can benefit from them'.

The Pensions Act 2012

The Pensions Act 2012 will come into effect during the next academic year and all qualifying teachers, teaching assistants and cover supervisors working for ABC Teachers will automatically be enrolled into a scheme.

The scheme will include contributions from both staff and ABC Teachers and is a government initiative to encourage everyone to start saving for their retirement. Enrolment into the scheme is mandatory, however anyone who does not wish to contribute to a pension will be given the option to opt out. Luke Jackson, Director of ABC Teachers commented 'This is a fantastic opportunity for all members of the teaching profession to save into a pension scheme, regardless of whether they are working for an agency or for a local authority.

We understand that staff working for ABC Teachers will be saving into their pensions by next March and we feel that this is a real benefit for supply teachers'.

Newly Qualified Teachers receive a helping hand from ABC Teachers

Each year scores of Newly Qualified Teachers fail to land their dream first teaching post. Some have been unlucky in interviews, while for others the right opportunity just didn't arise.

As each year goes by ABC Teachers registers more and more NQTs as our success rate and reputation for assisting them in securing a suitable post sky rockets. 'ABC Teachers have had a strong relationship with NQTs since we started in 2005 having secured them posts on a supply, contract and permanent basis in schools, therefore, allowing them to work towards their NQT induction' states Primary Consultant Rachael Tabberer. Even in cases where NQTs do not receive work towards their induction; the experience of working on supply can be invaluable.

'The onus is always on the school to provide the NQT support so it is not something we can guarantee. However, working as a supply teacher keeps individuals working within schools, allowing them to view different establishments and keep building on their teaching knowledge. Such experiences will carry them in good stead when applying for future jobs.'

Tips for Supply Teachers

By www.abc-teachers.co.uk

Finding an agency: Choosing the right Teaching Agency for you

1. Recommendations are probably the best place to start. Many teaching agencies will promise you the world but receiving a recommendation from an experienced supply teacher is a good way of ascertaining the best agency to work for
2. Call a number of agencies and get a feel for the education consultant that covers your specialism and region. This is the person who will be responsible for securing you work, so if you don't think they sound knowledgeable, professional and personable then it's safe to assume that the schools will also be wary about trusting the consultant to recruit on behalf of them
3. Ask the agency which schools they work with regularly. This will enable you to see whether the teaching agency is suitable for your requirements
4. Be wary of choosing a teaching agency on its size. You will probably be kept busier by an agency with not enough teachers than one with too many
5. Don't necessarily go with the agency that offers you the most money. A supply teacher's pay will directly affect the amount charged to schools. More and more schools are choosing to pay less for supply teachers and using cover supervisors where possible to keep costs down. In short you may find the agencies paying the most will not necessarily be able to secure the most work. We at ABC Teachers believe we have carefully managed professional rates of pay and competitive charge rates giving you the best of both worlds

Preparing for your day

6. If you are given a booking in advance try to get to the school in plenty of time. Schools will panic if you are running late and it does not create a good first impression. Equally, as a supply teacher you will benefit from having enough time to settle yourself, ask any questions in regards to your day and familiarise yourself with the discipline procedure before facing your first class. 8.15 is the optimum time to arrive at an assignment, although for last minute bookings this won't always be possible
7. Try to have a few tricks and ideas up your sleeve in order to keep the class occupied should there be no work set. This will give you valuable time to find out what the class should really be doing whilst retaining their concentration
8. Your appearance matters. Dress professionally for supply teaching work. This will encourage respect from pupils and help make a good first impression with the school
9. Plan your route to the school in advance. If you are going to be late contact your teaching agency so that they can inform the school
10. Keep items you will need each day ready in advance. This means when you are given last minute assignments you are able to leave quickly and get to the school earlier. Things you have ready should include:
  - Clean and ironed clothes
  - Your recent CRB Disclosure and some photographic ID (passport or driving licence)
  - Pens and pencils should your pupils have forgotten theirs
  - Some back up schemes of work (as mentioned above)
  - An A-to-Z or, if you are part of the technical age, a Sat Nav
  - Consider taking a bag with sports kit in case you are asked to cover PE

Maximising your work

11. If you have not received a booking prior to the morning, call your teaching agency first thing and inform them you are up, ready and available for work. In the morning your consultant will contact people they know can get to the school with minimum fuss
12. If you go to a school you like, let the school know you are available for other assignments in the future. You may find that you are requested by name in the future
13. Be flexible. The more flexible you are the more opportunities you are likely to receive
14. While you never use your mobile phone in class or in front of your pupils, do check your phone during breaks for texts and voice mails from your teaching agency which may have details of further assignments
15. Be speedy in the morning. If you can be seen as a person who can leave and get to schools with minimal fuss the agency will automatically see you as an obvious choice for bookings

Classroom management strategies

16. One of the main issues with supply teachers is a lack of enthusiasm for the role. Stay enthusiastic for the position. Keep working and never give up on the class and let it rule you. Utilize do's and don'ts below and things will become easier
17. Avoid shouting if possible. It can give the impression that you have lost control, making it difficult to regain it
18. At the start of lesson set clear expectations of the class
19. Do not be afraid to accept support. Even the best teachers will have days when support can help
20. Take the time to get to know the names of the pupils in the class
21. If you are at the school for a longer period devise a seating plan to keep disruptive groups forming
22. Know the names of each individual head of year and then use them when addressing behaviour issues
23. Use positive praise of good behaviour to avoid allowing negative behaviour to gain all the attention
24. Do not highlight you are in the school on a short-term basis. This gives pupils the impression that they do not need to be concerned about you in the long term
25. By following the regular pattern of discipline, pupils know where they stand so try to know the school behaviour management system
26. Ask for the school's behaviour management policy at the start of the day
